TERRORISTS USE SOCIAL MEDIA TO RAISE FUNDS: NIA CHIEF

There is strong evidence to prove that militants use social media and crowdfunding platforms to raise money, says NIA. Talking to media persons ahead of 'No Money for Terror', an international ministerial conference on countering terror financing to be held in Delhi on Friday and Saturday, NIA director-general Dinkar Gupta said the issue will be discussed during the meeting. Pakistan and Afghanistan have not been invited for the meet, while China is yet to confirm its participation | P9

Gujarat, T'gana HC Bars oppose judges' transfer

Acting CJ of Madras HC, too, on transfer list?

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

LAWYERS in Gujarat and Telangana were up in arms on Thursday amid buzz that the Supreme Court collegium has decided to transfer Gujarat High Court judge Nikhil S Kariel and his Telangana counterpart A Abhishek Reddy to the Patna High Court for "administrative reasons".

Both the Gujarat High Court Advocates' Association (GHCAA) and the Telangana High Court Bar Association resolved to abstain from work indefinitely to protest against the transfer.

In its meeting on Wednesday, the collegium headed by Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud is also said to have decided to transfer Madras High Court Acting Chief Justice T Raja to the Rajasthan High Court, again for administrative reasons.

Justice Kariel is one of the finest, honest, upright and unbiased judges whose integrity is being vouched by the entire Bar in unison, the GHCAA said in a resolution.

Gujarat judge Nikhil S Kariel

Though the collegium resolution confirming the proposed transfers is yet to be uploaded on the Supreme Court website, a large number of advocates gathered in the court of Gujarat Chief Justice Aravind Kumar in the afternoon at a time when proceedings were being live-streamed.

When the intrigued CJ sought to inquire about the sudden rush of the Bar in court, senior advocate Mihir Thakore said they were against the proposed transfer of Justice Kariel wished to observe two minutes of silence in mourning. "We are here to mourn the death of independent judiciary," Thakore added.

Another member of the Bar sought to blame it on Chief Justice Aravind Kumar, saying such transfers are done in consultation with the CJ. Later in the day, the GHCAA resolved to abstain from work indefinitely till the issue is resolved.

A similar decision was taken by the Telangana HC Bar Association in its extraordinary meeting on Thursday. The president of the association said the transfer of Justice Reddy is arbitrary and affects the independence of the judiciary.

Govt files review petition on Rajiv case remission

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday moved the Supreme Court challenging the top court's November 11 order releasing six convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case. In its review petition, the Centre pointed out that it was not made a party to the hearing and, hence, its stance was not heard. Consequently, several glaring errors on record were not brought to the court's notice, it added.

"It is extremely crucial to mention that out of the six convicts who have been granted remission, four are Sri Lankan nationals. Granting remission to terrorists of foreign nation, who had been duly convicted in accordance with the law of land for gruesome offence of assassinating the former Prime Minister of the country, is a matter which has international ramification and therefore falls squarely within the sovereign powers of the Union of India," the plea stated.

The Centre pointed out that the procedural lapses on part of the convicts resulted in non participation of the Union government in subsequent hearings of the case.

"The convicts, while filing the special leave petition, had not made Union of India a party respondent despite it being a necessary and proper party. It is evident that the principles of natural justice, the aim of which is to secure justice or to put it negatively to prevent miscarriage of justice, have been grossly compromised," it added.

On November 11, a bench of judges B R Gavai and B V Nagarathna had ordered the release of S Nalini, R P Ravichandran, Jayakumar, Santhan, Murugan and Robert Pius, noting that they displayed good conduct in prison and had been behind bars for a very long period.

Voter ID theft: Cong blames CM, minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state Congress launched a frontal attack on Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Higher Education Minister C N Ashwathnarayan over the alleged theft of voters' data, fraud and impersonation, by allowing private firms to revise the voters' list. The Congress leaders said Bommai, who is in-charge of Bengaluru city, should be held responsible for the alleged theft in 28 assembly constituencies in Bengaluru.

AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala, Opposition leader Siddaramaiah and and KPCC president D K Shivakumar demanded a high-level inquiry to be set up by Chief Justice of the Karnataka High Court.

They alleged that members of Chilume Enterprises Pvt Ltd and DAP Hombale Pvt Ltd have gone to the people claiming that they are an election management company and that they prepare EVMs for political parties. "We had so far heard that EVMs are made by the government," the leaders said, accusing the government of being responsible for identity theft, criminal conspiracy and misappropriation of property by using the service of an NGO.

First, the private firm representatives pretended to be government officials, second, they procured fake identity cards, and third, they illegally collected information from voters, besides uploading it on a private app and selling it for commercial purposes. CONTINUED ON : P4

Travesty of justice if Shakereh's killer set free: Victim's ex-hubby

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

"IT would be a travesty of justice if every murderer is going to seek mercy merely because the accomplices of the assassins of former prime minister Rajiv Gandhi have been released by the Supreme Court," said former Indian diplomat, Akbar Khaleeli. He was reacting to the plea of his first wife Shakereh's killer Shraddhanand alias Murali Manohar Misra, who was convicted in the case and was awarded life sentence until death. Shraddhanand sought parity with the convicts of the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case on Wednesday, and pleaded before the apex court for early release.

Khaleeli said that he along with his daughter had met Home Minister Araga Jnanendra some months ago. "I said that we want the Supreme Court judgment against Shraddhanand to be maintained in letter and spirit. He was kind enough to assure us that they would do their best to respect the apex court judgment," said Khaleeli. He argued that since the case was fought by the state of Karnataka, "it should oppose any attempt to release Shraddhanand, especially if no reference has been made to them by the Madhya Pradesh government. The primary responsibility lies with the Karnataka government. The home secretary and state government should ensure that their standing counsel opposes any move to release him".

On Shraddhanand seeking parity with Rajiv's assassins, Khaleeli said that if at all, the Shakereh murder case should be compared with the Nirbhaya case. "Shraddhanand is a murderer. The Rajiv Gandhi assassination convicts who have been released from prison were accessories. The main assassins had committed suicide," he added.

Rahul keeps up attack on Savarkar, cites mercy petition

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Akola

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday kept the controversy surrounding Veer Savarkar's role during the independence movement on the boil here, claiming he wrote a mercy petition to the British Raj out of fear while assuring he would not be part of the freedom struggle any longer.

Waving a copy of the mercy petition, Rahul said while leaders like Mahatma Gandhi, Sardar Patel and Pandit Nehru went to jail during the freedom struggle but never wrote such a groveling letter to the British government, "Savarkar surrendered before the British and even filed the mercy petition."

"I will read the last line (of mercy petition), which says 'I beg to remain your most obedient servant' and is signed V D Savarkar. It shows he helped the British," Rahul alleged.

Later in the day, Savarkar's grandson lodged a police complaint against Rahul in Mumbai for "insulting" his grandfather.

Saras Mk 2 may soon dot skies over Tier 2 & 3 cities

The 19-seater civilian aircraft is being developed by National Aerospace Laboratories in Bengaluru, in collaboration with CSIR

A stall by the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research at the Bengaluru Tech Summit 2022 on Thursday | EXPRESS

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

ONE of the major attractions at this year's Bengaluru Tech Summit is a model of the Saras Mark 2, the upgraded version of the first ever indigenously built civilian aeroplane, the Saras Mark 1.

Almost 20 years after its predecessor's historic maiden flight, the Saras Mk 2 may soon become a common sight in the skies across the state.

The Saras Mk 2, a 19-seater multi-purpose civilian aircraft, is being developed by National Aerospace Laboratories (NAL), Bengaluru, in collaboration with the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR).

"The aircraft is an upgraded version of the Saras Mk 1. It can be used for multiple purposes, including for medical emergencies or in the event of natural disasters. However, it can also help in transporting passengers from Tier-1 cities to Tier-2 and Tier-3 cities," said Naman Dugar, a senior scientist at NAL, who has been involved with the development of the aircraft. He also said that the aircraft will be used for defence purposes as well.

The aircraft has an additional five seats when compared to Saras Mk-1, which had only 14 seats. Dugar says the plane is ideal for carrying passengers to shorter distances, like to nearby cities. With Karnataka's push towards developing Tier-2 and Tier-3 cities in the coming years, the aircraft may become an ideal option for the state's transport needs in this direction.

"There are many larger planes. However, they are developed for long-distance travel and are generally more expensive. In terms of travelling to closer cities by air, for example, Tier-2 and Tier-3 cities, the Saras Mark 2 will become a sought-after plane. The aircraft does not need much space for take-off and landing," said Dugar.

The development of Saras Mk 2 is expected to be completed by 2024 and make its maiden flight by 2025.

Develop genomic medicine locally, say experts

Namrata Sindwani @ Bengaluru: Genomic medicine can be made more accessible and affordable if efforts are made to make the technology more localised, according to experts. Speaking at a conclave - The Future of Genomic Medicine at the BTS 2022 - panelists explained how genomic medicine can help treat rare diseases and genetic disorders. Prof Siddharth Jhunjhunwala, associate professor, IISc, said that in the current scenario, there is structural support provided to startups in terms of technology. However, more support is needed from the government in terms of education and R&D. Currently, most of the resource materials are imported, making it expensive. Jhunjhunwala opined that if research is undertaken on common diseases, it makes it more economical.

BENGALURU SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY CLUSTER LAUNCHED

The Bengaluru Science and Technology (BeST) cluster, a collaborative effort to create a scientific ecosystem, was launched at the Bengaluru Tech Summit on Thursday. The cluster is a collaborative efforts of 50 organisations, including major academic institutions, industry partners, startups, civil society organisations, and government bodies. The cluster was launched by Principal Scientific Advisor Prof Ajay Sood. He said Bengaluru has enormous potential in technology and Karnataka is among the leaders in science and technology advancements. He said BeST cluster will pave the path for the future success of such initiatives. BeST cluster has identified health and wellness, urban life and futuristic technologies as the sectors. A Section 8 firm is being set up to catalyse this collaboration as an independent body, provide organisational support, and raise resources.

Sustainability must for powering space exploration, feel experts

NIHAAL TERKATI @ Bengaluru

WITH increasing number of space projects and missions, cost of rocket fuel and concerns of increasing space debris, the Bengaluru Tech Summit 2022 on Thursday heard a clarion call given for sustainability in space technologies and related activities.

Addressing a conclave themed 'Sustainability in outer space powered by digital technologies', Stefan Gustafsson, Senior Vice-President of Strategy & Sustainability of Swedish Space Corporation, said, "For decades, space was really important for scientific purposes, security policies and geopolitics… Now space is more crucial for almost every societal function, including the financial system. If we don't have time signals from navigation satellites, to assets for logistics or positioning or communication or whatever it could be… Simply put, space is really everywhere."

Highlighting the use of digitisation for sustainability, he said space is a domain where you host a lot of advanced IT equipment for the benefit of humans. "But we need to ensure it is done in a sustainable way. A separate body should be set up to ensure the best practices are in play… We need governments to hold more conclaves, invite experts and hold discussions. There has to be friction between governments and industries for them to find solutions," he added.

AK Anil Kumar, Associate Director, ISRO Telemetry Tracking and Command Network (ISTRAC), said it is essential for space agencies to keep watch and make sustainable space programmes for mankind's benefit. "ISRO is strictly abiding by all guidelines set for sustainability by the Inter-Agency Space Debris Coordination Committee, which was accepted by the UN. An Indian representative is the chair of a UN group working for long-term sustainability in Geneva, and we are working towards safeguarding it," he added.

Laxmesh BH, Head, Missiles & Aerospace Business, Larsen & Toubro, said space infrastructure in India is moving towards fostering a space econom, which would play a crucial role in helping India achieve its goals. "India has seen liberalisation of various sectors like telecom over several years, but we are now looking at liberalisation of the space sector in India. And, I am sure this will happen much earlier," he added.

Focus on 4 As: Women panelists at BTS

Uma Kannan @ Bengaluru: As we are heading towards a $5 trillion economy, the role of women in the workforce and their participation in technology play a vital role. Women panelists at the BTS stressed on the importance of women's role in leadership. Talking about 'Women Leadership in Transforming the World', Subi Chaturvedi, Chief Corporate Affairs & Policy Officer at InMobi said, "It is very important that we focus on four As: Access, Ability, Aptitude and Acknowledgement. Today, very few of us acknowledge our wins. It is also important for us to give women access to equal opportunities early on. It is critical that we start investing in creating enabling environments for women." Mythily Ramesh CEO, NextWealth Entrepreneurs, explained how the leadership styles are very different in terms of women leaders performing more of nurturing, inclusive, process-oriented roles, while men counterparts are for decision-making and goal-oriented ones.

Chandrayaan-3 mission will be in orbit soon, says ISRO chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

INDIAN Space Research Organisation (ISRO) Chairman S Somanath on Thursday said that the Chandrayaan-3 mission will be in orbit in a few months, adding that ISRO is working closely with NASA in several areas of space technology.

Addressing a gathering at the Bengaluru Tech Summit 2022, on the theme 'Research and Development of India – Innovation for Global Impact', Somanath said space tourism has picked up globally with startups evincing interest in various applications, which impact day-to-day activities. He added that ISRO also plays a crucial role in smart city projects and smart manufacturing processes.

He added that around 100 startups were registered with them, of which at least 10 were working on developing satellites and rockets. He added that ISRO has signed MoUs with companies for space technology and building processes from start-to-end.

Somanath also said that ISRO was working on various projects including bringing back satellite technology, propulsion systems used in engine manufacturing, which have been successfully tested, green and hybrid propulsion system, nuclear propulsion, launch of small rockets with the use of additive technologies, energy storage systems, functional materials, carbon fiber technology, electronic devices, robotics, drone technologies, quantum technology used in encryption, and disruptive technologies.

PETER VIDAL

18th November: The Sun and Mars are both in a pattern with Neptune and Pluto. I know such astro-speak doesn't make much sense, so let me translate. It means that deep passions are liable to break out at any time without warning. If you like this sort of thing, then that's fine, but, if you don't, then watch your step!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Venus is adjusting its position, which means that good romantic news is on the way for those of you who have suffered a disappointment. Significant financial influences are excellent for property deals, so if you're arranging loans, mortgages or guarantees, get on with it!

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You are now officially in a long-term creative cycle, good news for all of you pursuing an artistic discipline. The other superb indication concerns increasing possibilities for self-indulgence and treats! If you decide that you want to dance all night, then why shouldn't you?

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
If you've been having trouble getting your point across, have another try today. If it's been a younger woman who has been refusing to listen, then the results should be even more dramatic. And when you're socialising, traditional outings to familiar places could be the most enjoyable.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Lunar alignments make this an emotionally supportive day for all Cancers everywhere, partly because the world could feel like a friendly place, as if it's somehow on your wavelength. It therefore follows that with a little goodwill you can get on with anyone.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Venus, planet of love, is on your side, advising you to stop and think. You may realise exactly where you are emotionally, which would be useful. If there's someone you want to get in touch with, do it tomorrow. And if there are outstanding questions at work, get the facts straight now.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Secret emotional fears and fantasies are about to take a new twist, perhaps moving one significant step nearer reality. Talk to a loved one and make sure that they share your hopes and feelings. The chances are that your respective positions are closer than you think.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Financial affairs dominate, with your most prosperous stars encouraging you to accept other people's promises at face value. You don't want to miss out, but neither do you want to be taken for a ride. The choice is a fine one, but there's no reason why you shouldn't get it right. At work, please be more assertive.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
If a professional relationship has been a little wobbly lately, now may be the moment to make amends. Extend the hand of friendship and see if you can't have a second, or even a third, chance. Loved ones could be feeling more sensitive than they pretend, by the way, so be gentle.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You are renowned for your grand vision of life and adventurous spirit. However, you're starting to worry about the future. You'll feel a whole lot better after next week's social developments, but until then you may have to take a certain amount on trust.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
When we look back at the past, it seems that you really have done rather well. You may now sort out a financial complication. It might be that someone you thought had let you down will turn up trumps after all. And, when they do, you will be able to sit back and take satisfaction in the knowledge that you were right.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You do have a lot on your plate, and I know that it's difficult pressing on alone, but just when you're about to give up, someone is bound to help you out. Emotions will be super-intense, so don't provoke people unless you are prepared for an almighty reaction.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Give yourself a break today and let your imagination soar. If you're dreaming of foreign parts, take travel plans one step further. Also, give a little thought to legal questions, but don't bend the rules. The point is that straight-dealing wins the day, even if it's hard work.

GETTING MEMO FOR NO FAULT: TRAFFIC COPS

Violations will be verified in detail, says Saleem

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

WITH traffic constables upset over receiving memo for clicking pictures of traffic violations, they want the Bengaluru traffic police, which is now headed by MA Saleem, to understand their predicament.

A traffic constable attached to Byatarayanapura Traffic station said that when the police officer on duty notices a vehicle violating rules, they click a picture of that and upload it on the department website, unaware whether the number plate has been tampered with.

In case it is tampered with, a person who has no involvement with the offence gets the notice. When the person challenges the notice, the constable, who had uploaded the memo, for the 'mistake'

"I have got notice without committing any violation. It is the owner who covers the number plate or tampers with it, and violates traffic rules. We click pictures of a few vehicles and upload them on the website as per orders. But due to what the offender has done, the honest constables are getting memo," said a constable of Byatarayanapura Traffic police station.

A Traffic assistant sub inspector from KG Halli Traffic police station said that although he notices such cases, he avoids uploading the photo fearing that some other owner might get the notice. "It is challenging to manage traffic as motorists sometimes use different number plates to evade dozens of cases for traffic violations. We should try to catch them, seize the vehicles for fraud, and then click the photos. This way, we can avoid the memo," he said.

Responding to the issue, Saleem said that there is a new amendment being worked out to verify such violations in details. The issues of traffic constables in such cases will be addressed, he added.

Will review progress of NPKL Layout, says BDA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BDA Commissioner Kumar G Naik has assured the Petition Committee of the State Legislature that he would review the progress of the Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout on a weekly basis. He also assured the committee that a progress report will be submitted every fortnight on the land acquisition and infrastructure developed.

The committee held a meeting at Vidhana Soudha on Thursday. BDA officials also assured that an exclusive board meeting will be held soon to clear all pending layout infrastructure work, Naik said.

The inordinate delay in the proposed transfer of Bandemath Layout from the Karnataka Housing Board to the BBMP was also discussed, said N Sridhar, president of NPKL Open Forum.

New interim chairman of the committee, Rajajinagar MLA S Suresh Kumar and BDA Engineer Member H R Shantharajanna were present.

Man booked for filming women in washroom

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

THE housekeeping staff of a hypermarket was caught while he was allegedly filming women when they were using the washroom. The HR manager of the private firm, who had come to use the washroom, saw the accused standing on the commode of a stall, and filming women inside the washroom.

The woman immediately came out of the stall, and knocked on the doors of the cubicle the accused, Lakshman Kumar was in.

Since there was no response, she came out of the rest room, and complained to the hypermarket's receptionist, who called her collegue to come and check.

"The accused did not respond when my colleague knocked on the door. When my colleague peered throught the space between the door and floor, the accused had lifted his legs. My colleague then went inside an adjoining stall and checked from above. He saw that the accused was standing on the commode. He was then pulled outside the washroom," the 27-year-old manager told TNIE, on condition of anonymity.

The incident happened on the eighth floor of a commercial complex in the Whitefield area around 11.20 am on Tuesday. The HR manager also works on the same floor, who along with her colleagues, called the admin and informed him of the incident.

"Shockingly, the admin did not bother to take action. He was trying to defend the housekeeper, saying that he must have gone to use the washroom. When the housekeeper saw that he was getting some support, he also echoed the same reason, and claimed that he was not recording anything," the manager said. An argument ensued between others who were working on the floor and the admin. The matter was then reported to the police control room, and the Whitefield police, who came to the spot, took the suspect into custody.

"The complainant's husband is a cyber security expert. He claimed that the accused has deleted the videos from his phone, which were retrieved," said an officer.

The accused has been booked under 354C (voyeurism) of the Indian Penal Code and IT Act, 2000.

Parties in a rush to claim credit for quota hike; 5L to attend BJP's 'Navashakti Samavesha'

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru:

WHILE the BJP is set to hold the Scheduled Tribe (ST) community's 'Navashakti Samavesha' in Ballari on November 20, and one for Scheduled Castes later in Mysuru, in an apparent bid to claim credit for the hike in quota, the Congress leadership has planned a joint SC-ST convention in December, with a similar agenda, ahead of assembly elections.

Following a suggestion by Opposition leader Siddaramaiah, who recently met former deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara and former minister Dr H C Mahadevappa, a preliminary meeting is scheduled for November 20 to chalk out a plan. The Basavaraj Bommai-led government, through an ordinance, hiked the SC quota from 15 to 17 per cent, and ST quota from 3 to 7 per cent, as per the recommendation of the Justice Nagmohandas Commission, as ST Nayaka religious head Sri Prasannananda Swamiji held a dharna to bring pressure. Now, the onus is on the Centre to include the decision in the 9th Schedule of the Constitution.

BJP national president JP Nadda and the Union minister for tribal welfare are expected to take part in the ST samavesha, and make an announcement. "Over 5 lakh people from the community from across the state will take part," informed Prabhakara Myasanayaka, a BJP ticket aspirant from Molakalmuru constituency.

Having got a clue that BJP will claim credit for a hike in quota, the Congress does not want to be left behind in the race for credit, as the commission that recommended the hike was set up during the Congress-JDS regime.

"BJP cannot claim credit for the hike in quota as the commission was set up when I was social welfare minister," claimed Chittapur MLA Priyank Kharge, adding that he has no qualms about BJP holding ST samavesha.

As transport minister, B Sriramulu is the BJP's ST community mascot, while the Congress is likely to project all its ST leaders including the working president Satish Jarkiholi, who had triggered a controversy over the origin of the word 'Hindu' recently.

JDS leaders claimed the ST Nayaka community cannot ignore the contribution of former Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda, as the latter had managed to convince former prime minister Chandra Shekar to bring in an ordinance to give the Nayaka community of Karnataka the ST tag, by promulgating an ordinance in April 1991. "When P V Narasimha Rao was prime minister, Parliament passed a Bill to give it constitutional provision," remarked Ugrappa.

RGUHS CAMPUS TO COME UP IN RAMANAGARA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru:

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and IT/BT Minister CN Ashwath Narayan arrive for the cabinet meeting at Vidhana Soudha on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

IN a major decision, the Basavaraj Bommai cabinet on Thursday gave administrative approval to set up a campus for Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences (RGUHS) at Archakarahalli in Ramanagara district, at an estimated cost of Rs 600 crore.

"After a series of struggles, the RGUHS campus is finally coming up, and the engineering division of the health department will implement the project," Minister for Health and Family Welfare and Medical Education Dr K Sudhakar told reporters. Many health department projects, worth over Rs 1,000 crore, under the state and Centre's flagship programmes, got administrative approval in the cabinet.

Among these are a 100-bed critical care block at the district hospital in Tumakuru at Rs 56 crore, at Kolar, Chamarajanagar and Karwar Institutes of Health Sciences, collectively costing Rs 49.89 crore, under the PM's ABHIM programme. A nursing college and hostel will come up in Tumakuru at an estimated cost of Rs 20 crore.

As per budgetary provision, 100 Primary Health Centres were identified for upgradation as community health centres, and 47 got approval with funding of over Rs 400 crore, Sudhakar said, and hoped the remaining 53 would get clearance at the next cabinet meeting.

Under the National Health Mission (NHM), five new women and child hospitals will be constructed at Chikkaballapura, Chikkamagaluru, Raichur, Bagalkote and Davanagere districts, and two such hospitals in Davanagere will be upgraded at an estimated cost of Rs 158 crore.

Administrative approval has also been given to set up a trauma care centre at K C General Hospital in Malleswaram in Bengaluru, at a cost of Rs 35 crore.

The cabinet approved the 'sandalwood policy 2022' which will ensure that farmers cultivate sandalwood and sell it in the open market.

The government will help farmers adopt technology, especially to check the pilferage of trees. There was a demand from private and government agencies, including the Karnataka Soaps and Detergents Limited, that manufactures sandal oil soaps, which have to import sandalwood oil from Australia. The new policy will meet both demand and supply, the minister explained.

SESSION FROM DEC 19 TO 30

A joint legislature session will be held from December 19 to 30 at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha in Belagavi. The winter session will also see Christmas holidays overlap.

NEW SANCTUARIES

The cabinet also gave its nod to new wildlife and bird sanctuaries at Uttaregudda, Bankapura, bear sanctuary at Arasikere and Hiresulekere. Bird sanctuaries at Chikkasangama, Mundigekere and Bonala will be notified.

OTHER DECISIONS

1. Couples serving as Group C and D employees are eligible for inter-district transfers if they serve in the post for five years at one place, in education and other departments, and seven years in the police department
2. Construction of VIP guesthouse and dormitories at Srikanteshwara temple at Nanjangud, at Rs 44 crore

Slugfest over bus shelter continues as Ramadas cries harassment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

THE indirect verbal spat between Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha and MLA S A Ramadas over the dome-shaped structure atop a bus shelter in Mysuru is taking new twists and turns every day.

After Simha announced that he will demolish the bus shelter, a flex with photos of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Suttur Mutt seers came up on the structure. Similarly, on Thursday, the domes, which were earlier painted in golden hues, was found repainted in red.

Asked about this, Ramadas appealed to reporters not to ask him anything about the matter and said he will reimburse the loss of public money from his salary. He added that he is ready to get punished if he had made any mistake. "In 20 years, 10 out of 11 BJP MLAs left the party due to treatment meted out to them and harassment. I am left now, please spare me," he said.

Later in the day, responding to Ramadas' remarks of facing 'harassment' in the bus shelter issue and in the party, Simha mocked, "Prime Minister Narendra Modi himself had patted him on the back, so how can I even get the power to harass him?"

While Simha contended that dome-like structures were coming up at bus shelters in Mysuru, Ramadas claimed that it was constructed to resemble the Mysuru palace and not a gumbaz. He further claimed that he was being unnecessary harassed.

"Demolishing dome-like structure might hurt the followers of Tipu Sultan, but not followers of Shivaji. I don't know in what way Ramadas is saying that he is being harassed," said Simha.

Without taking any name, Simha said, "I am here in politics not in real estate. Politicians in Mysuru have so much money that they can burn me in it. I have come to politics for the purpose of development."

He further said the national highway authority officials have considered the shelter illegal and they themselves can demolish it anytime. "It is thieves who work in the night. How can it be done overnight? There is so much violation in it. There was no gumbaz-like structure in the initial plan, but this has been revised in the new plan, which bears the signature of personal assistant of the MLA," Simha said.

Meanwhile, the controversy has even snowballed to the Chief Minister Office, as the CM is said to have held a closed door meeting with Ramadas on this issue.

Meanwhile, NHAI officials has slapped notice to MCC and KRIDL for not taking approval before constructing the bus shelter.

Nominated members not eligible to vote in MLC poll: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a major judgment, the Karnataka High Court has ruled that only elected councilors are entitled to be enrolled in the voters' list in the election to the Karnataka Legislative Council from the Local Authority Constituency, and members nominated by the government are not to be enrolled in the voters' list.

Justice Hemant Chandangoudar passed the order recently while allowing a batch of petitions filed by A V Gayathri Shanthegowda, who contested election from the Congress, and others against inclusion of persons nominated to respective town panchayats under Section 352(1)(b) of the Karnataka Municipalities Act, 1964, in the electoral roll for election to the council in 12 Chikkamagaluru Local Authority Constituencies.

The court declared that the enrolment of nominated members in the electoral roll of Koppa, Mudigere, Sringeri and Narasimharajapura town panchayats by the Chikkamagaluru Deputy Commissioner and Electoral Registration Officer of Chikkamagaluru Local Authorities Constituency, 2021, is declared ab initio void and unconstitutional. Accordingly, the electoral roll was quashed. Therefore, the election held to elect the member of the Legislative Council from Chikkamagaluru Local Authorities constituency is likely to be affected.

"The term 'every member of the Local Authority' means 'only the elected members who are councilors of the town panchayat' and it cannot be extended to persons nominated by the government to the town panchayat. Any interpretation otherwise goes against the spirit of Article 243-R of the Constitution of India and Section 352 of the Act, 1964," the court said.

The court further said the very object of the 74th Amendment, inserting Article 243-R, of the Constitution of India and the object of the Act 1964, prohibiting the representatives of the government to vote, will be rendered redundant if persons nominated by the government are permitted to vote in the election to the local authorities constituency.

Protest after IT raid on Cong leader, kin

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chikkamagaluru

IT sleuths swooped down on the residence of former MLC and Congress leader A V Gayatri Shanthe Gowda in the wee hours of Thursday. The officials, landed before her doors in more than ten vehicles, and continued the search till late evening. They also raided her son-in-law's residence in Beluru. It is said that Gayatri was at home during the raid.

To keep the element of surprise, the convoy of vehicles displayed a wedding board on the vehicles reading 'Abhinav weds Deepika'.

Gayatri had contested in the local body election againsat BJPs MK Pranesh and lost to him by just six votes. The High Court recently passed an order stating that nominated members in the local bodies are not entitled to vote which came as a shot in the arms for Gayatri.

Raids were also conducted on her son-in-law's house in Beluru and also a Choultry belonging to him.

Meanwhile, Congress leaders staged a protest at Azad park condemning the IT raid and shouted slogans against the BJP government and local MLA C T Ravi.

Congress leader M L Murthy said the raid was politically motivated at a time when elections are round the corner and slammed the BJP government for being vindictive towards opposition leaders.

BJP district spokesperson Deepak Doddaiah condemned the Congress leaders' protest stating that as IT is a central government agency, it proved that the Congress has scant respect for the law of the land.

THIS information is being sold to other firms as well, they alleged. The Congress leaders alleged that the main accused is Krishnappa Ravikumar, who is a close aide of a senior minister in the government. All these companies have been set up in Malleswaram constituency which is representated by the minister.

Ravikumar allegedly issued fake ID cards to the staff of his private firm. "It is a crime committed in the guise of government officials. It is an offence punishable under law. On November 16, 2022, the government issued an order stating that the permission granted to the institute has been cancelled. However, the reason for the cancellation has not been stated", the Congress leaders said.

Meanwhile, CM Bommai defended his government by saying, "Election Commission has authorised Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and local organisations to undertake 'Systematic Voters Education and Electoral Participation Program' (SVEEP) and that survey work will be entrusted to NGOs. This is not the first time as it has been done even in 2018. I will order a detailed probe into the matter and let the truth come out."

Meanwhile, a police complaint was filed at Halasuru Gate Police Station and Kadugodi Police Station under relevant sections of IPC.

Setback for JDS, HT Baligar to join BJP today

Shivamogga : Former KAS officer H T Baligar is all set to jump ship from the JDS to the BJP. He will be welcomed into the party by former CM B S Yediyurappa on Friday. According to sources, Baligar met Yediyurappa and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai during the Jana Sankalpa Yatra in Tarikere recently where the matter of his inclusion was fine-tuned. Baligar took voluntary retirement and joined the JD(S) nearly a decade ago. He was identified with then JD(S) leader Madhu Bangarappa's camp, and is now the second leader to leave the party. Bangarappa had joined the Congress. With Baligar in BJP fold, the saffron party will get a boost in Shikaripura taluk from where Yediyurappa's son B Y Vijayendra is expected to contest in the forthcoming Assembly elections. Baligar had contested from Shikaripura Assembly election on JD(S) ticket in 2013 and 2018. He is from the Valmiki community which has significant strength in Shikaripura. ENS

SHRADDHANAND AWARDED DEATH PENALTY IN 2000

SHRADDHANAND was arrested in 1994 for burying his wife Shakereh alive in the backyard of her sprawling mansion at 81, Richmond Road, on May 28, 1991, after he had laced her tea with sedatives.

Three years later, on March 30, 1994, Shakereh's skeletal remains were exhumed after one of her daughters, Sabah, from her first marriage with Khaleeli, filed a missing complaint at Ashoknagar police station on June 10, 1992.

Shraddhanand was convicted under Sections 302 and 201 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) for murder and causing disappearance of evidence, and giving false information to screen himself in the high-profile murder case. On May 21, 2000, a Bengaluru sessions court awarded death sentence to Shraddhanand, which was confirmed by the Karnataka High Court in 2005.

On July 22, 2008, the SC commuted his death sentence to "imprisonment for life and direct(ed) that he shall not be released from prison till the rest of his life". He was transferred to Sagar Central Prison from Bangalore Central Prison in 2011.

Shakareh was the granddaughter of former Dewan of Mysore, Sir Mirza Ismail. She had first met Shraddhanand in 1983 when she and her family visited the erstwhile Nawab of Rampur in New Delhi. He was asked to come to Bengaluru to help her sort out her property issues. Khaleeli was posted as a diplomat to Iran around this time.

Shraddhanand started working on Shakereh's alleged 'desire' for a son and convinced her that with his occult powers, he could make her beget a son. In 1985, Shakereh and Khaleeli divorced after 21 years of marriage. The couple had four daughters. She married Shraddhanand on April 17, 1986. In 1987, he managed to get general power of attorney over his wife's property. Greed made him insecure as he saw Shakereh interact with her daughters. That's when he planned to murder her.

Mesta's family approaches court against CBI 'B' report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Karwar

THE family members of Hindu activist Paresh Mesta, whose death in 2017 caused a huge sensation in the state with BJP leaders and right-wing outfits calling it a communal murder, have moved the court against the CBI report terming it an accidental death.

Not happy with the 'B' report filed by the investigative agency, they approached the Honnavar Court seeking re-investigation of the case.

The family's counsel, in his submission before the court, said the report is not acceptable to them.

After the CBI submitted the 'B' report to close the case, the court had issued a notice to the family to submit their opinion. Accordingly, Kamalakar Mesta, father of Paresh, appeared before the court said that the report is not acceptable to him.

It has been more than five years since Paresh was murdered. According to police, he went missing on December 7, 2017. His body was found in a lake on December 8, 2017, under mysterious conditions. Mesta's death created a sensation in 2018 with the BJP leaders raising it in the Assembly. Finally, yielding to pressure, the then chief minister Siddaramaiah agreed for a CBI inquiry. The investigation agency closed the matter and submitted a report in October 2021 that the youth had died due to drowning.

Sabarimala: Kerala govt withdraws police duty book

All pilgrims allowed entry as per 2018 SC order, read the pamphlet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

AS thousands of devotees thronged the hill shrine of Lord Ayyappa, marking the dawn of the two-month-long pilgrimage season, a pamphlet distributed to policemen deployed in and around Sabarimala triggered a controversy on Thursday morning. The pamphlet carrying general guidelines to policemen said that all pilgrims are allowed entry to the hill shrine as per the order issued by the Supreme Court on September 28, 2018.

As the guidelines were widely circulated on social media, Hindu organisations, including Sabarimala Karma Samithi, Hindu Aikya Vedi, Viswa Hindu Parishad, RSSand BJP raised an alarm alleging that the government was again trying to violate the age-old practice of the temple that banned entry for women in the age group of 10 to 50.

As the issue came to his notice, Devaswom Minister K Radhakrishnan, who was at Sabarimala Sannidhanam contacted the Home Department, and the pamphlet was withdrawn immediately. He said it was issued by mistake and all steps will be taken to ensure the peaceful conduct of the pilgrimage. "The pamphlet was an old one and it was distributed to create awareness among policemen on the need to maintain the sanctity of the temple. As it createdconfusion among devotees, instructions were given to withdraw it immediately. The government has no intention to create a controversy," said a Chief Minister's Office official. ADGP M R Ajithkumar also clarified that the guidelines were distributed by mistake.

The guidelines also directed policemen to follow the rituals and practices of the temple.

India's first private rocket Vikram-S | PTI

THE Indian National Space Promotion and Authorisation Center (IN-SPACe) has authorised the first private sector launch of a launch vehicle.

The launch vehicle, Vikram-S (VKS), developed by aerospace startup Skyroot Aerospace, will see its historic launch on November 18. It will be the first-ever launch of a privately developed and built rocket in India. "IN-SPACe has authorised the first private sector launch of a launch vehicle. We're truly delighted to have authorised Skyroot's maiden mission, which will enable India's first-ever private launch of a launch vehicle. I hope the Vikram-S rocket marks the start of a new age in India's private space domain. The seamless joint efforts of various ISRO centres, including SDSC SHAR, ISTRAC and VSSC, Skyroot team and IN-SPACe, have enabled the Skyroot VKS rocket to be launch-ready in a short period of time," said Dr Pawan K Goenka, chairman, IN-SPACe.

The VKS will be carrying three customer payloads on its voyage, as the maiden rocket under Skyroot's launch mission 'Prarambh', which was launched earlier this month. The VKS is a sub-orbital single-stage solid fuelled rocket which has been in development for around 2 years. The rocket has been built using a number advanced technologies, including parts that have been 3D printed. It is all set for launch between 11 am and 12 noon on Friday from the Satish Dhawan Space Centre at Sriharikota, Andhra Pradesh.

As of now, the IN-SPACe authorisation is the fourth such authorisation to be given to any non-governmental entity for taking up space activities in India.

Haj panel seeks more flights with capacity to carry 300 pilgrims

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Haj Committee Chairman Rouffudin Kacheriwala said a state delegation had met Union Minister for Minorities Smriti lrani on November 12, during which they had placed several requests before her, one of which was to allot more flights with a carrying capacity of 300 Haj pilgrims to Saudi Arabia in 2023.

Kacheriwala said the Haj Committee had suggested restoration of the embarkation points of Mangaluru, Hyderabad and Goa for pilgrims proceeding from Karnataka, and that the minister has responded positively.

The committee suggested obtaining visas (which are available online) for pilgrimage through the State Haj Committee, young volunteers for compulsory training and grants for completing construction of Haj Bhavan in Kalaburagi and Bengaluru. Irani reportedly assured them that a probe would be held against the agency which distributed suitcases to Haj pilgrims in 2022, and that it would be discontinued.

SIM cards

Kacheriwala also said that SIM cards distributed to pilgrims during Haj 2022 had many issues, and suggested that SIM cards from any company in India with international roaming facility may be distributed.

On state-wise distribution of vaccines to the selected pilgrims, the minister assured that she would do the needful, he said.Applications for Haj 2023 are likely to be opened from the last week of November, and the rates are likely to be reduced.

ED searches 16 locations, freezes 80 bank accounts

ONLINE PART-TIME JOB SCAM

THE Directorate of Enforcement on November 14 and 15 conducted searches at 16 locations in Bengaluru in a case related to Super Like Online Earning Application (part-time job scam).

The searches were conducted by the ED at the residences of the involved persons and also on the offices of PhonePe, Paytm, GooglePay, Amazonpay etc and a few banks like HDFC, ICICI, Dhanalakshmi and others under the provisions of Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002, the ED stated in a release on Thursday. During the search proceedings, around 80 bank accounts having balance to the tune of Rs 1 crore belonging to the accused have been freezed.

ED had initiated money laundering investigation on the basis of an FIR dated March 3, 2021, registered by the South CEN police station, Bengaluru, against Super Like Online Earning Application and other accused persons. One app called 'Super Like,' in which if the customers shared photos and videos of celebrities by investing money, they would get money as profit. By getting attracted towards this lucrative scheme, people invested funds in the said app and after sharing videos of celebrities they got some money as profit for some time. However, after some time, even after sharing videos, photos, the customers did not get any money and when they tried to take back their invested money, the amount was blocked.

A chargesheet dated January 13, 2022, was filed by the police before the Principal City Civil & Sessions Judge against 50 accused persons, including two Chinese nationals — Shen Long and Himani.

THE ED arrested Misbahuddin S of Injaz International and associated group, Bengaluru, for his alleged involvement in a scam running into Rs 250 crore, under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002. Misbahuddin was produced before the Special (PMLA) Court, Bengaluru, and was remanded in ED custody till November 19, the agency stated on Thursday.

The ED had initiated a money laundering investigation on the basis of an FIR registered against Injaz International and associated group under sections of Prize Chits and Money Circulation Schemes (Banning) Act, 1978, Chit Funds Act, 1982, and Section 420 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) by the Wilson Garden Police Station. The CCB, Bengaluru, initiated the investigation in the multi-crore scam. During investigation, it was revealed that Injaz International is a partnership firm, where Suhail Ahamed Shariff and Misbahuddin are partners. "As per the FIR and investigation, Injaz International accepted deposits from investors, cheated them and violated RBI guidelines," the ED charged.

"The company was allegedly running investment schemes by luring depositors with promises of high returns since 2016. It routed money through multiple bank accounts and had neither filed ITR returns nor done any audits. Injaz International collected huge funds from investors and siphoned off the collected amount to various individuals, including its partners and related entity - Injaz Builders and Developers," the Central agency stated.

Tigress snare death: Forest officials admit to lapses in surveillance

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE death of a tigress in a snare in a private field, just 300 metres away from Nagarhole Tiger Reserve, has sent the forest department officials into a tizzy. Senior officials in the department admit that there could be lapses in the surveillance in finding snares.

"Usually, regular combing operations are carried out to check and clear snares. Farmers put snares to catch wild boars and not tigers. However, in the last few days, the staffers were busy with elephant driving operations and were working to ensure that there are no cases of tigers or other animals being poisoned," an official said.

Forest department officials usually focus on combing and search operations targeting the D-lines and trenches. The agricultural field in this case, even though outside the forest, was part of the core zone and so special attention should have been given to the region, the official added.

"All sanctuaries and reserve forests have been strictly instructed to undertake patrolling and surveillance on a daily basis. Regular combing operations need to be taken up. This could have been missed due to multiple reasons and there is a need for a thorough investigation," the official added.

The forest department has initiated an inquiry into the matter to ascertain what went wrong and where. Help from police is also being taken in the investigation.

Also, director of the tiger reserve, Harshakumar Chikkaragund said that it has been decided that if snares are found, action will be taken against the property owners. He said cases of poaching, under Wildlife Protection Act, will be filed against the property owner. Chikkaragund said that in the case of the tigress' death, the property owner is an old man and so far no case has been booked.

TELANGANA HC'S FOOD FOR THOUGHT TO PARTIES IN POACHGATE

The confrontation between the BJP and the Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) government in the state took an unexpected turn recently after the state police raided a farmhouse and caught three persons for allegedly trying to poach four TRS legislators for the saffron camp. TRS president and Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao claimed it was part of an elaborate BJP conspiracy to topple his government and made an impassioned plea to the judiciary "to save democracy". Whatever the merits of his arguments and the evidence on record, what he did next, to put it mildly, was confounding. He sent the evidence, including telephonic conversations, to the Chief Justice of India, judges of the Supreme Court, chief justices and judges of all the high courts, and leaders of several political parties, besides the media.

Why is this problematic? It is accepted beyond any reasonable doubt that disclosure of sensitive information about an ongoing investigation could hinder the administration of justice. This apart, the Supreme Court itself has clarified quite recently that it is against accepting even sealed covers—unless the information contained therein is too sensitive, as it happens in exceptional circumstances. It reasons that such a practice is against the concept of a fair trial. Granted that the TRS government believes it is an aggrieved party and the case at hand is serious in nature. Still, what it has done is nothing short of a self-goal. It has unwittingly given the impression of seeking to influence the case at hand and the judiciary at large.

Telangana High Court Chief Justice Ujjal Bhuyan rightly questioned the government advocate regarding the cover he had received from the TRS chief and disclosed that he had set it aside. The government advocate had to tender an unconditional apology. This entire episode reveals the intensity of the politics at play in the state. Neither the BJP nor the TRS can claim innocence as far as weaning away leaders from other parties is concerned. The less said about the political influence on law enforcement agencies, the better.

Under these circumstances, the high court must be applauded for upholding its principles by directing the special investigation team probing the case to report to a single-judge bench, no one else. It is a reminder to all the parties concerned to let the law take its course.

KERALA ECONOMY GROWS, STILL HAS WOES

It's not very often that one hears positive news on Kerala's economy. This week happened to be one such instance when the Gross State Domestic Product (GSDP) data showed that the state's economy grew by a robust 12% in 2021–22, its fastest growth in over a decade. True, the growth figure came on a low base of -8.43% in 2020–21 and 0.9% in 2019–20 when the state economy was rocked by the after-effects of the pandemic and lockdown restrictions.

A closer look at the GSDP figures showed interesting data points. The growth was led by tourism-related sectors such as hotels and restaurants and air transport, which grew by 114% and 74.94%. The easing of travel restrictions and the waning of the pandemic helped the tourism sector, which constitutes over 10% of Kerala's GDP, and reportedly contributes around 23.5% to the total employment in the state. In comparison, agriculture, forestry, and fishing, which grew by 4.64% in 2021–22, now contribute only about 8% of the state's economy, a decline from 17.8% in 2012–13. Likewise, the share of the manufacturing sector, key for job creation, is just 10.53% as per the latest figures. To be sure, servitisation of the economy is the way forward for Kerala given its fragile ecosystem, which offers no place for smokestacks, unlike, say, in Gujarat, UP, or Maharashtra.

While the economic growth rate for 2021–22 offers a glimmer of hope, the state's finances are still on shaky grounds. Early this week, Kerala Finance Minister K N Balagopal met Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman and urged her to help the state tide over the financial crises by releasing the pending GST compensation of ₹1,548 crore and special assistance of ₹3,224.61 crore for capital investment, and extending the period of GST compensation by another five years. While this may ease the finances for the short term, the government needs to fix the noticeable fault lines in the economy for a long-term sustainable solution. One is the substantial committed expenditure of over 70% going into salary, pension, and interest payments. This is unsustainable. And next is the immediate reform in the hugely loss-making Kerala State Electricity Board (KSEB) and Kerala State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) through streamlining the bloated staff structure and reducing unnecessary costs.

The Left government, which won the second term in office in 2021, has the mandate for some hard measures. The question is, will it bite the bullet?

QUICK TAKE

THE WHIMPER FOR JUSTICE

A Gurugram woman bitten by a pet dog gets ₹2 lakh as compensation. The dog is in custody, and the owner also faces punitive action. In contrast, a Jodhpur doctor who recently tied a dog to his car and dragged it across the city may pay a paltry fine of ₹50 if convicted under the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act. It shows how lopsided animal laws are. Calls to revise the Act, never amended since 1960, fall on deaf ears. The Act is speciesist and fails to define cruelty or grade crimes. Cruelty to animals, meanwhile, skyrockets.

Russia has yet to cave in militarily, nor has Ukraine run riot on the battlefront. The latter is restoring its original battlefronts. There is still life left in this war

A new season for military analyses is fast approaching. Indicators from Ukraine signal triggers towards the termination of the physical part of the war. A tendency to declare 'victory and defeat' will be difficult to eschew, although, in complex modern warfare, there are no notions of such black and white stakes in warlike situations. Yet the Ukraine war offers situations, contingencies and future scenarios for which the classification of conflict termination would be a challenge.

Let us bring an Indian angle into this quite early. In September 2022, I was assessing that the war in Ukraine would stretch into the winter of 2022–23, that Europe would suffer misery due to a lack of preparedness to cater for alternatives to Russian energy, and that there would be rifts within NATO. Vladimir Putin could then be tempted to elongate the war and continue to use his ploys and bravado, including the threat of employment of tactical nuclear weapons, to cause confusion and split response. The very transactional situation towards any end of hostilities in September 2022 could only have been overturned with the introduction of sage advice, which would catch the attention of both sides and aid in developing a positive environment. The world was surprised when that advice came from Narendra Modi, India's internationally respected prime minister.

"Today's era is not an era of war," said Modi to Putin in a bilateral on the sidelines of the SCO summit at Tashkent on September 16, 2022. The PM added that food, fertiliser and fuel security were among the major concerns of the world. The Western media spread this message as a victory for NATO, with India having left its neutrality. In effect, this was one of the sanest politico-diplomatic messages of the last nine months and timed extremely well, displaying true strategic autonomy, which India has been successful in garnering for itself. It triggered a series of activities behind the scenes. Putin's response itself did not indicate anything negative. The setting for the termination of the kinetic aspects of the war can truly be traced to this exchange.

A brief recall of why the war occurred at all sets the tone for a 'victory and defeat' analysis. The proxy war in Ukraine being pursued by Russia since 2014 had the potential of becoming bigger and miring NATO into it. NATO did not wish Russia to gain space from where it could dictate Ukraine's future. As the second largest nation in Europe, NATO's control over Ukraine was perceived as mandatory to deny a future Russian return to strategic control of Eastern Europe. At a lower level of priority, the US was also aware that an impending focus on the Indo-Pacific would leave little time and effort for this crucial part of US interests, for which it underwent 45 years of the Cold War. Cowing down on Ukraine's intent of joining NATO and relenting to Russian pressure would mean a reversal of many policies on the progressive containment of Russia post the Cold War; it's not as if the breakup of the former Soviet Union meant that a stable East Europe would immediately emerge. In early 2022, NATO backed Ukraine in response to Russian belligerence and stuck to that strategy. A comprehensive strategy of economic warfare (through sanctions), psychological/information warfare and warfighting was employed by NATO. Quite unpredictably, Russia withstood the economic sanctions, and its economy became stronger through Chinese and Indian energy purchases on the one hand and the overall resistance against sanctions on the other. This would appear to have a confidence-enhancing effect on the Russian leadership. It did, but the Russian military let the nation down. Dated technologies, except for some iconic equipment such as the S-400 Air Defence system, inability to keep track of modern doctrine and attempting to fight today's war with yesterday's doctrinal thinking did the Russians no good. To add to it, an ageing population, a dearth of young people, hesitation in employing ground forces in assault roles, a virtual absence of logistics and a completely flawed concept of employing airpower led to Russian inability to make headway and finally, to a situation where it is being forced to withdraw from areas it had captured at much cost. The information warfare techniques employed by NATO have included targets such as the Russian population, the Russian military and Europe itself and they have been one of the major success stories of the war.

Russia has yet to cave in militarily, nor has Ukraine run riot on the battlefront. The latter is restoring its original battlefronts. There is still life left in this war, but it appears that the writing is on the wall. Putin has desisted from attending the G-20 meeting in Bali, but his absence should not be taken as the sulk of the defeated. If a ceasefire does come into being in the very near future, the course towards comprehensive stabilisation will yet be challenging. A win-win for both sides would be the restoration of energy to Europe.

It is up to Ukraine to decide what terms are acceptable for negotiations to bring an end to the war Russia is waging against the country after all the suffering it and its people have endured. NATO Secretary General Jens Stoltenberg said, "Moscow's strength should not be underestimated despite Kyiv's recent battlefield successes." That remains a truism. Russia will not accept any compromise on the Black Sea ports, given its lack of accessibility to warm waters elsewhere. The old formula of dual use of the Black Sea ports may have to be restored, but with an angry Ukrainian leadership and people, there will be reluctance towards such an arrangement and a potential trigger for a return to conflict.

It's early yet to assess how Putin exercises control over a dwindling situation. He is not going to abdicate; it's highly unlikely. Yet, his ability to think through the situation rationally with advisers (especially from the military) would be an important consideration in all assessments. NATO has to draw upon many lessons of history, commencing with the Treaty of Versailles, 1919, the invasion and withdrawal from Iraq (2003 and 2011), and the broad principles of dealing with defeated dictatorships. Success can be completely flawed and self-converted to failure if sensitivity about victory and defeat is missing from the final considerations. We will hear a lot more on this in the days to come.

RETRIEVAL OF KACHCHATHEEVU UNWISE AND IMPRACTICAL

V SURYANARAYAN

Founding Director, Centre for South and Southeast Asian Studies, University of Madras

The car bomb blast by Islamic terrorists near Sangameswarar Temple in Coimbatore on October 23 and the violent clash earlier between the Indian Navy and Tamil Nadu fishermen in the Palk Strait have highlighted the necessity for better coordination between the Centre and the states on matters of national security. Internal security falls within the jurisdiction of the state. Home Minister Amit Shah convened a meeting of home ministers on October 28 to discuss this critical matter. In that meeting, Tamil Nadu Law Minister S Regupathy harped on the Dravidian parties' pet hobby, i.e., moving the International Court of Justice to "reclaim Kachchatheevu". Former Chief Minister J Jayalalithaa had gone even further and said India should take back Kachchatheevu "even by force, if necessary".

Kachchatheevu has become irrelevant, and the demand for its retrieval is impractical. There is a certain amount of sanctity in international agreements. Though India and Pakistan went to war on a few occasions, New Delhi never abrogated the Indus Water Agreement. In 1974, A B Vajpayee, then in opposition, characterised the ceding of Kachchatheevu as "bhoodan"; however, when he became the prime minister in 1998, he continued the policy of not reopening the issue of ownership. When coalition governments came to power, and the DMK/AIADMK shared power, the two parties went along with the Centre on India's Sri Lanka policy.

During the Fourth Eelam War (2006–2009), the DMK was a partner in the Manmohan Singh government. During this, the most savage war against the Tamils was unleashed. According to UN estimates, 40,000 innocent Tamils were killed. Except for the political gimmick of a hunger strike, which started after breakfast and concluded before lunch, Karunanidhi preferred to go along with the Centre in its "inhuman" and "anti-Tamil" Sri Lanka policy.

A judicial solution should have been resorted to in 1974 when the India-Sri Lanka Maritime Agreement was concluded and Kachchatheevu was ceded to Sri Lanka. Documentary evidence shows that Kachchatheevu was part of the zamindari of Raja of Ramnad, and when zamindari was abolished, it became a part of the Madras Presidency. According to the Gazetteer of Ramanathapuram, the survey number of Kachchatheevu was 1,250. Indira Gandhi's determination to cede Kachchatheevu was evident when New Delhi considered it not an Indian territory but a "disputed" territory. Moreover, the principle of "median line", the basic principle of delimitation of maritime boundaries, was modified so that Kachchatheevu fell on the Sri Lankan side.

In the Fifties, Jawaharlal Nehru wanted to cede Berubari to East Pakistan. He considered Berubari to be a "disputed territory". The then chief minister of West Bengal, B C Roy, appealed to the Supreme Court and argued that Berubari was an integral part of West Bengal. If an Indian territory is to be ceded to a foreign country, the Constitution has to be amended. The Supreme Court upheld B C Roy's claim, and Berubari remains a part of India.

FILE PICTURE

The law minister's present demand implies that the fault lies entirely with the Sri Lankan government. The truth lies elsewhere

Why did Karunanidhi not approach the Supreme Court and prevent the ceding of Kachchatheevu to Sri Lanka in 1974? I interviewed S Madhavan, then law minister, and asked him why the government did not seek a judicial solution. There was no convincing answer. Instead, Karunanidhi got a resolution passed in the Legislative Assembly. A resolution by the assembly on a subject that falls within the Centre's jurisdiction is not binding. At the same time, a judicial decision is binding both on the Centre and the state. The answer lies elsewhere. M G Ramachandran had broken away from the DMK and was becoming immensely popular. Karunanidhi wanted the Congress party's support against MGR. What is more, there were many skeletons in the DMK's cupboard. As a ruthless politician, Indira could have used them against Karunanidhi.

The role of Tamil Nadu in India's Sri Lanka policy became embroiled in the blame game played by Jayalalithaa and Karunanidhi. As a result, finding an amicable solution to the travails of fishermen was pushed to the background. A significant incident needs to be highlighted. Since the early Nineties, I have been suggesting a two-pronged solution. First, get back Kachchatheevu on "lease in perpetuity" (Tin Bigha in reverse). While Chennai accepted the suggestion, New Delhi did not want to reopen the island's ownership issue. Second, licensed Indian fishermen should be permitted to fish in Sri Lankan waters for up to five nautical miles [based on the 1976 Agreement where licensed Sinhalese fishermen were permitted to fish in the Wadge Bank (near Kanyakumari)]. In July 2003, the Government of Sri Lanka, for the first time, suggested that it was willing to consider proposals for licensed Indian fishermen to fish in Sri Lankan waters. This was a golden opportunity for New Delhi and Chennai to settle the issue. But unfortunately, the Tamil Nadu government did not make suggestions to the Centre.

The law minister's present demand implies that the fault lies entirely with the Sri Lankan government. The truth lies elsewhere. On the three days our fishermen go fishing, they go deep into Sri Lankan waters. They use bottom trawlers, which are banned in Sri Lanka, and which cause irreparable damage to marine ecology. They destroy the Sri Lankan fishing boats and muddy the waters. If the Sri Lankan government approaches the International Court of Justice, our image in the comity of nations will take a nosedive. Incidentally, a few years ago, the Philippines went to the ICJ against China on the issue of fishing rights in the South China Sea and got a favourable decision.

Regupathy should answer two questions. How would the retrieval of Kachchatheevu bring about a peaceful solution to the present travails of Tamil fishermen in both countries? Two, in case Sri Lanka approaches the ICJ, what will his arguments be in defence of the retrieval of Kachchatheevu?

Industry, students hail new UK visas for Indians

Business leaders feel that the scheme will strengthen the living bridge of young Indian and British talents

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

UPGRADING INDIA-UK TRADE TIES

UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak has given the go-ahead for 3,000 visas for young professionals from India to work in the UK each year

The scheme will be reciprocal UK has more links with India than almost any country in the Indo-Pacific region

Nearly a quarter of all international students in the UK are from India

18-30-year-old degree-educated Indian nationals to come to the UK to live and work for up to two years will be beneficiaries of the new scheme

95,000 jobs across the UK are due toIndian investment

The UK is currently negotiating a trade deal with India — if agreed it will be the first deal of its kind India has made with a European country

International trade requires removal of barriers and visa schemes like this are a great step in ensuring that top talent moves smoothly – Nicholas Lyons, Lord Mayor of London

INDUSTRY and student groups in India and UK have welcomed the new UK-India Young Professionals Scheme that was given the go-ahead by British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak on Wednesday, calling it a great step in ensuring the smooth movement of top talent between markets.

The scheme, which comes into effect from 2023, will offer up to 3,000 visas annually to Indian students and professionals aged between 18 and 30 to live and work in the UK for 24 months, with British nationals granted a similar offer for India.

"International trade requires the removal of barriers and visa schemes like this are a great step in ensuring that we allow top talent to move smoothly between markets," said Lord Mayor Nicholas Lyons. "India is home to the fastest growing economy in the world and one of the UK's historic partners. With trade negotiations ongoing, firms will also want to see a greater focus on enabling smoother digital trade and the free flow of data. Delivering on these priorities will in turn unlock opportunities and growth for businesses across the UK," he said.

Meanwhile, the Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FICCI) called the new scheme an "opportunity of a lifetime" for young professionals from both countries and a sign of the strength of the UK-India Migration and Mobility Partnership (MMP) signed last year.

"This will give the brightest young minds from both the countries to live and work in the other country. This will be an opportunity of a lifetime for these young professionals. The announcement also highlights the strength of the UK-India Migration and Mobility Partnership agreed last year," said FICCI Director General Arun Chawla.

The National Indian Students and Alumni Union (NISAU) UK, which campaigns for streamlined provisions for Indian students studying in the UK, said the new scheme marked an "important moment" in the UK-India relationship to address critical skill shortages as it awaits the operational details to see it come to life next year. "I hope that the scheme does not prioritise only one talent area over another though and the 3,000 spaces should be diversified across STEM, humanities etc," said NISAU UK Chair Sanam Arora.

"I have no doubts that the scheme will be oversubscribed from India's perspective, but I do hope that as many young Brits as possible are also encouraged to take up this scheme to go to India because this has the potential to be a truly wonderful way of educating Britain's youth about contemporary India," she said.

"This scheme will further help strengthen the living bridge of young Indian and British talent enriching the other country," she said.

Farmers to march to Raj Bhavans on Nov 26 over 'breach of assurances'

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

A year after the Centre repealed three controversial farm bills, Samyukta Kisan Morcha (SKM) has announced that it will hold nationwide marches to Raj Bhavans on November 26 in protest against the alleged breach of assurance by the Centre on their pending demands.

SKM, an umbrella body of farmers' unions, which spearheaded the one-year long agitation against the farm laws, has also called a meeting on December 8 to decide the future course of the movement.

"The march to Raj Bhavans across India marks the beginning of the next phase of the farmers' protest. Hence, SKM appeals to all farmers to prepare for and join continuous struggles till our demands including 'freedom from indebtedness and full remunerative price' are fulfilled by the government," said SKM leader Darshan Pal at a press conference in the capital.

The meeting was attended by other Union leaders Hannan Mollah, Yudhvir Singh, Avik Saha and Ashok Dhawale. The farmer's body will celebrate 19 November as 'Fateh Diwas' or victory day, on which the government gave in to the demand of the protesting unions. It will hold marches to the offices of all Lok Sabha and Raj Sabha MPs, and MLA's of all state Assemblies from December 1 to 11.

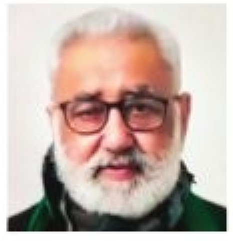
It also demanded legal action against Union Minister of State for Home Affairs Ajay Mishra Teni, whose son is prime accused in running over and killing farmers in Lakhimpur Kheri. "We also demand payment of compensation to families of all farmers who were martyred during SKM movement, along with the major local demands of the respective states," said Pal.

SKM also criticised the Union government for not implementing the written assurances made on 9 December 2021 on legally guaranteed MSP, and withdrawal of the Electricity Bill among others.

The leaders also said that the farmers suspended their historic struggle at the Delhi Borders and returned home on 11 December 2021 on the basis of the assurance given by the government. The farmer's body also alleged that neither the committee on MSP had been formed, nor the "false" cases registered against farmers during the agitation were withdrawn. "Legally guaranteed MSP for all crops and freedom from indebtedness are the major demands the farmers have been fighting for since the rollout of neo-liberal policies that aggravated the agrarian crisis and peasant suicides," said Mollah.

The leaders also said that it has decided to intensify the protests in the coming weeks in view of the callous response of the Union Government to the just and fair demands of farmers. "A plan of action to intensify the protests has been decided for the coming weeks with the focus on massive protest-gatherings beginning from village level and spreading across the country," said Pal.

It was on 26 November in 2020 that SKM launched the one-year long 'March to Delhi' protest.



The march to Raj Bhavans across India marks the beginning of the next phase of the farmers' protest. Hence, SKM appeals to all farmers to prepare for and join continuous struggles till our demands

Govt: Reports of forced nod to Covaxin misleading

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday refuted reports claiming regulatory approval for the manufacture of Covaxin, India's first indigenously developed anti-Covid vaccine manufactured by Hyderabad-based Bharat Biotech, was rushed due to "political pressure" as "misleading," "fallacious" and "ill-informed."

The Union Health Ministry said the government and the national regulator - Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation (CDSCO) - have followed a scientific approach and prescribed norms in approving Covid-19 vaccines for emergency use authorisation.

In a statement, the health ministry said that there had been media reports claiming that Bharat Biotech "had to skip certain processes" and "speed" up clinical trials due to political pressure. "The reports further claim that there were several irregularities in the three phases of the clinical trials conducted for the vaccine. These media reports are completely misleading, fallacious and ill-informed," the statement said.

Bharat Biotech also issued a statement condemning the "targeted narrative" against Covaxin, whose supply to UN agencies was suspended by the World Health Organisation (WHO) in April, citing deficiencies in good manufacturing practices.

SC refuses to cut into Parl's right to pick EC members

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

IN a plea seeking appointment of members of Election Commission by a collegium comprising PM, CJI and leaders of opposition, the Supreme Court's constitution bench on Thursday said that it will not encroach on the right of the Parliament to make appointments. Currently, the appointment to the members of ECI are made by the President under Article 324(2) of the Constitution subject to the law made by the Parliament.

Responding to the submissions made by the counsels who pushed for appointment of the members by way of collegium, the five judge bench headed by Justice KM Joseph said, "Sum and substance of your case is, we need to fill the gaps. That's where we can step in. We cannot encroach of the right of the Parliament."

The bench was considering a plea filed by Anoop Baranwal wherein he had also sought for equal protection Chief Election Commissioners (CEC) and Election Commissioners (ECs) and for a common procedure of removal. Remarking that the current system pertaining to appointment of members has been "prevalent for more than 70 years", the bench also said, "hat necessity has now arisen for approaching this Court to lay down what the Government should follow in making ECI appointments?"

During the course of hearing the bench also stated that the collegium was competent to make judicial appointments since they knew the responsibilities of judges well. "Can Judges know and assess the credentials of Election Commissioners?" Court also asked.

Asserting that doubts have been raised by the citizens regarding independence of Election Commission, Advocate Prashant Bhushan said, "Selection should be by a body which is totally neutral. Collegium is one possibility, which selects judges. Selection should be in the hands of a body which is totally neutral." He also added that selection of the members should be by a neutral body and it could not be left in the hands of the government alone.

"The appointment is by the President but we don't know the process. Cabinet recommends the name & the President appoint. Is the President active? I highly doubt," Senior Adv Gopal Sankaranarayanan said.

House arrest: Hearing on pleas of activist Navlakha, NIA today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court agreed to list for hearing on Friday a fresh plea of activist Gautam Navlakha, who has not been shifted to house arrest despite the apex court's direction in the Elgar Parishad-Maoist link case.

A bench headed by Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud took note of the submissions of a senior lawyer Nitya Ramakrishnan, appearing for Navlakha, that the apex court's November 10 direction to shift him from Navi Mumbai's Taloja prison to house arrest owing to his deteriorating health has not been compiled with so far. Solicitor General (SG) Tushar Mehta, appearing for the NIA, said the accused, instead of giving the address of his house, has given the address of the library-cum-office of the Communist Party and moreover, a separate plea would also be filed during the day.

Ex-bureaucrat CV Ananda Bose named Bengal Guv

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

FORMER IAS officer C V Ananda Bose has been appointed as the new governor of West Bengal days after the BJP's West Bengal chapter expressed unhappiness with the role of present constitutional head of the state.

Bose will replace La Ganesan, the Manipur governor who was in-charge of West Bengal after predecessor Jagdeep Dhankhar was nominated by the NDA and elected as the vice-president.

Bose's role as the governor is said to be politically significant as the BJP's Bengal chapter expressed his unhappiness over the role of Ganesan as he preferred to maintain silence on the issue of ruling Trinamool Congress minister Akhil Giri's remark on the President's look.

Welcoming Bose as the governor of the state, BJP's state president tweeted, "Congratulations to Dr. C. V. Ananda ji being appointed as the Hon'ble governor of West Bengal. We look forward to welcome him and work for the betterment of the people and state. Wishing him a successful tenure ahead."

According sources in the saffron camp, the state unit of the party was not happy with the functioning of the Raj Bhavan following Giri's remark. The Leader of opposition Suvendu Adhikari went to Raj Bhavan seeking Genesan's intervention over the Trinamool Congress minister's remark but he was not in town.

A day before Bose's appointment as the governor of the state, Majumdar had said, "We expect that very soon, West Bengal will have a new governor. And we believe that he would follow former governor Jagdeep Dhankhar's footsteps," said BJP's West Bengal president Sukanta Majumdar.

Bengal witnessed a slew of face-offs between the state government and chief minister Mamata Banerjee and Dhankhar.

HEAVY AIR TRAFFIC ROUTES' LEVY TO DOUBLE FROM JAN 1

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

THE Ministry of Civil Aviation is set to double the levy charged from airlines operating on heavy traffic routes beginning January 1 2023 in bid to raise additional funds to fast-track development of 1000 new routes along with additional 100 airports by 2024 under UDAN scheme, that would also include 12 water aerodromes for sea-plane and 28 heliports.

The ministry in fact has cushioned the immediate hike and proposes to take the figure to ₹15,000 per departure starting 1 April 2023, the beginning of the next financial year. Under UDAN, currently, 451 routes are operational and 550 routes are 'in the process for implementation' with 68 of the targeted 100 airports are already operational

"The levy is being revised to incentivise operations by the 11 airlines operators that has been providing low-cost connectivity on 451 currently operational routes (as on November 11 2022) connecting smaller regional towns under regional connectivity scheme (RCS)," said an official of the aviation ministry, adding that "a few more routes are being added this month."

"The levy has been designed by the Government to compensate for the burden of low returns and revenue, due to low costs, borne by flight operators under certain RCS in the form of Viability Gap Funding (VGF)," the official said.

The Airports Authority of India also waives off fees like the airport fee, navigational charges and others in the form of VGF. Stating that.

New hike

The new levy which would be enforced beginning the first day of the new year 2023 would be to the tune of `10,000 per departure, being raised from the existing `5,000.

Researchers used neuromorphic computing, which mimics brain functions by training on past data sets and learning from experience and is compatible with strechables.

THIS ROBOT CAN HELP WITH HOUSE CHORES, SEARCH AND RESCUE TOO

We are a significant step closer to having a robot do our bidding while helping with domestic chores, or even actively participate in search and rescue operations. The researchers at Carnegie Mellon University's (CMU) School of Computer Science and the University of California, Berkeley, have designed a low-cost, small legged robot which can not only climb and descend stairs, but can also walk (or even trot) over rocky, slippery, uneven, steep and varied terrains. It can walk over gaps and scale rocks...and can also operate in pitch darkness. Developing this robot, the researchers directly routed the vision inputs to the control system of the robot — which means whatever the robot 'sees', determines its movements, just like humans do. This also means, that the robot is highly autonomous.

MEET THE 'SUPERGPS' WITH ACCURACY MARGIN OF 10 CM IN URBAN SETTINGS

Researchers from Delft University of Technology, Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, Holland, have developed an alternative positioning system, titled SuperGPS, that is more robust and accurate than the GPS, especially in urban settings in which it offers an accuracy of 10 cm error margin as compared to much larger margins of the GPS. The new technology is a major support development in the implementation of location-based applications, including automated vehicles, quantum communication and next-generation mobile communication systems. Researchers connected the mobile network to a very accurate atomic clock to enable broadcasting perfectly timed messages for positioning. The large radio signals bandwidth of SuperGPS sort out the confusing signal reflections in urban centres and ensures higher accuracy.

MP ban on cellphone at Mahakal sparks Cong-BJP spat

Congress says BJP govt's order just ahead of Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra is meant to stop publicity while BJP rejects charges

BICKERING ON MOBILE BAN

Congress' Bharat Jodo Yatra will pass through Ujjain's Mahakal temple in its Madhya Pradesh leg in the first week of December

The temple administration has banned the use of mobile phones inside the sanctum

Congress has linked the ban on cellphones to Rahul Gandhi's proposed prayers inside the temple

The ruling BJP and the temple management denied any political links to the temple decision

> The BJP government is so scared with our leader's visit to the Mahakal temple that it has pressured the temple management to ban carrying of mobilephones inside the sanctum of the temple
>
> PC Sharma, Congress MLA

ALMOST a week before Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra enters Madhya Pradesh, which will pass through Ujjain's Mahakal temple, a political controversy has erupted in the state.

A few days ago, the Mahakal temple administration banned the use of mobile phones inside the sanctum to prevent the shooting of visuals, a decision that the opposition Congress has linked to Rahul's yatra in which he is scheduled to offer prayers inside the temple in the first week of December.

"The BJP government is so scared with our leader's visit to the Mahakal temple that it has pressured the temple management to take this decision. Six days back, I went to the same temple and offered prayers, but there was no such ban. The reason for the sudden decision is clear: stop the publicity of our leader offering prayers at the temple," said former state law minister and Congress MLA PC Sharma. Echoing similar views, another former state minister and senior Congress MLA Sajjan Singh Verma (considered close to state party chief Kamal Nath) said, "The temple decision exposes the real mindset of the BJP. However, the new rule will neither have any effect on Rahul Gandhi nor the Congress." The ruling BJP and the temple management denied any political links to the temple decision. "The government has not taken this decision. The ban has been imposed by the administrative committee of the temple. It's wrong to derive political meaning from it," said state's Home Minister Narottam Mishra. BJP MP from Ujjain Anil Firoziya said the ban on mobile phones was proposed on November 12 to stop videography of the sanctum. There have been instances where videos filmed by youngsters were mixed with Bollywood songs before being posted on social media platforms, triggering controversy. "It's to prevent such incidents that the ban has been imposed on cell-phones inside the garbhagriha."

The Ujjain district collector Ashish Singh, who is the ex-officio head of the temple's management committee says a slew of decisions that were taken recently by the committee in consultation with priests, included banning cell-phones inside the garbhgriha, as many devotees have complained of inconvenience. During the course of around fortnight-long Yatra in MP's Malwa-Nimar region (covering six districts and at least 25 assembly constituencies of south-west and west MP) Rahul will offer prayers at Jyotirlingas, first at Omkareshwar temple in Khandwa district this month and later at Mahakal in Ujjain in the first week of December, around the time when neighbouring Gujarat will be voting in two phases.

Meanwhile, the visuals of state Congress chief Kamal Nath cutting a temple-shaped multi-layered cake bearing images of Lord Hanuman and saffron flag, have prompted the BJP to target Nath and Congress for "hurting Hindu religious sentiments". The video went viral on Wednesday, in which Nath was seen cutting the cake in his assembly constituency Chhindwara, three days ahead of his 76th birthday which falls on Friday. While CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan assailed Nath and Congress, dubbing them Bagula Bhagat (false devotees), the state's Home Minister Narottam Mishra accused Nath of being inspired by invaders Muhammad Ghori and Mahmud Ghaznavi.

Srinagar to witness political tussle in 2023

With the summary revision of electoral rolls to be done by the end of November and the first-ever Assembly polls of J&K Union Territory likely to be held in March-April in 2023, the Valley is set to witness increased political activities. The BJP held a mega rally in Baramulla recently, addressed by Home Minister Amit Shah. The Apni Party of former PDP leader Altaf Bukhari also held a rally in Srinagar which was attended by thousands. It was the first rally to be held by mainstream party in Srinagar after abrogation of Articles 370 and 35A and bifurcation of erstwhile J&K state by centre on August 5, 2019.

ACKNOWLEDGING the presence of disgruntled BJP candidates having filed their nominations, Gujarat BJP chief Chandrakanta Patil on Friday threatened "adequate action" against them if they don't withdraw within a given time.

Patil pointed out that for 182 seats, as many as 4,100 aspirants had sought the party ticket. "It is only natural that those denied the nomination will be unhappy," he said. He hoped that such candidates would beat their frustration and gear up for the party work.

He said at least three candidates have filed their papers even after the party's objection, Patil said that if they failed to withdraw their candidature within the specified timeframe, the party would initiate action against them.

The resentment against the party's lists of candidates has been raging since the announcement of the first list and despite efforts of the senior party leaders, including Union Home Minister Amit Shah, the discontent has shown no sign of waning.

On Thursday at least four former members of the assembly went against party diktat and filed their papers as Independents. Allegedly 'insulted' over the denial of the ticket by the saffron party, the controversial strongman of Waghodia and six-term MLA Madhu Shrivastava severed his ties with the party and went on to file his nomination on Thursday.

BJP had replaced Shrivastava with Ashwin Patel, much to the chagrin of Shrivastava and his supporters.

While the top leadership of the state unit left no stone unturned to mollycoddle Shrivastava, he denied them any audience and stuck to his guns.

Defying BJP's 75-year age criteria for candidates, seven-time MLA from Manjalpur in Vadodara, Yogesh Patel (76) too filed his papers on Thursday.

MAINPURI BYPOLL

Akhilesh, wife reach out to uncle Shivpal

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

DAYS ahead of the Mainpuri Lok Sabha bye-election due December 5, Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav has taken the first step towards family reconciliation. On Thursday, he and his wife Dimple reached out to his estranged uncle and Prgatisheel Samajwadi Part Lohia chief Shivpal Singh Yadav at his Saifai residence.

The SP chief has entrusted the responsibility of taking over the legacy of his father late Mulayam Singh Yadav to Dimple by making her the party candidate from the Mainpuri Lok Sabha seat. Dimple is a former MP from Kannauj. The 45-minute closed-door meeting among the family members assumes significance as the by-election is caused by the passing away of Mulayam Singh. The constituency was considered Mulayam's bastion which he represented five times in the Lok Sabha.

Akhilesh was accompanied by his wife Dimple and cousin Dharmendra Yadav. Shivpal was flanked by his son Aditya. Sources said the meeting took place in the presence of Shivpal's elder brother Abhay Ram Yadav. After meeting Shivpal, Akhilesh took to twitter to post his photograph with Shivpal. "Along with the blessings of Netaji and elders of the family, the people of Mainpuri are also with us," Akhilesh tweeted.

Mining case: Soren appears before ED, says he's 'victim of conspiracy'

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

STATING that allegations levelled against him in a mining lease case were baseless, Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren on Thursday claimed that he was a victim of a conspiracy by the BJP as he left for the ED office at Ranchi around noon to answer questions and depose in the illegal mining case.

The ED had issued fresh summons to Soren to appear for questioning after he marked himself absent at the ED office November 3, when he was called for questioning, citing official engagements. He had then sought a three-week deferment of the summons. The ED has said it has "identified" proceeds of crime relating to illegal mining in the state to the tune of Rs 1,000 crore till now.

Addressing media persons on Thursday Soren said that he was a victim of a conspiracy by the opposition. "The agency should level allegations only after a detailed investigation into the matter," he said. Soren, talking to reporters, said, "If we calculate the yearly revenue from mines and minerals, it would not touch Rs 1000 crore. I am going to the ED office and want to see how they arrived at that figure," he told media persons as he left for the ED office. Soren who has been linking the ED's move to summon him to his tribal identity, had earlier alleged the ED action of summoning him was aimed at harassing him and said, "The objective behind the attempt to harass me is to block the rights of tribals, backwards and minorities."

After skipping ED summons on November 3, Soren had lashed out at the Centre the same day while addressing a rally at Ranchi and dared the centre to act against him. "If I am guilty, why are you questioning me? Just come and arrest me if you can," he said.

'BJP misusing central agencies'

PATNA: Bihar deputy CM Tejashwi Prasad Yadav on Thursday alleged that BJP in apprehension of losing power would continue misusing central agencies against its opponents till the next Lok Sabha election in 2024. He said IT raids on the premises of Bihar Industries Minister Sameer Kumar Mahaseth's close aide and also questioning of Jharkhand CM Hemant Soren by the ED were the latest examples. On Thursday, searches were conducted at office and residential premises of promoter and top executives of Saakar Construction Company in Patna and other places in the state.

TMC neta in ED net in cattle smuggling case

PRONAB MONDAL @Kolkata

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Thursday arrested Trinamool Congress (TMC) strongman Anubrata Mondal after interrogating him in Asansol jail for over five hours in connection with the multi-crore cattle smuggling scam.

The TMC president of Birbhum district was arrested by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) in connection with the cattle-smuggling case and was in judicial custody since July 11.

"We will seek his custodial interrogation before the magistrate of Asansol court on Friday. We will petition to take him to Delhi for interrogation,'' said an ED official.

Elaborating on Mondal's money laundering, another ED official said, "The CBI found Rs 18 lakh as fixed deposit and a rice mill in the name of his daughter Sukanya. Besides, there are several properties recorded in her name. We need to know the source of the money and this is why, Mondal's interrogation in our custody is required.''

CM Mamata Banerjee has extended her support to Mondal.

BJP challenges Sangma to fight from home seat

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

THE BJP in Meghalaya has challenged Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma of the National People's Party (NPP) to contest the Assembly elections only from his pet South Tura seat in the Garo Hills region.

The BJP threw down the gauntlet soon after its state vice president Bernard N Marak had walked out of jail on bail on Wednesday. He was arrested in July for allegedly running a brothel from his Tura farmhouse "Rimpu Bagan". Subsequently, several cases, including one under the Arms Act, were registered against him.

BJP state president Ernest Mawrie asked Sangma "not to hedge his career by fighting on two seats" but face the might of Marak in his (CM's) own backyard — the South Tura seat.

The BJP said Marak was released against all odds and despite the best efforts of the NPP-led government to keep him in lockup. "The CM is aware of the rising popularity of Bernard Marak and is scared of losing the people's mandate in Tura," Mawrie said.

Indian fossil fuel view not part of COP pact draft

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

THE first UN draft for an overarching agreement at the end of the ongoing COP27 climate summit in Egypt, mentions the goal of capping global warming below 1.5°C but glosses over India's proposal to phase down of all fossil fuels, not just coal.

The draft is expected to undergo extensive changes. But in its present form, is a recipe for climate hell, Greenpeace warned. The draft calls for accelerating measures towards phase out of coal power while rationalising inefficient fossil fuel subsidies. India, on the other hand, is lobbying for putting all fossil fuels in the same basket for the phase out like coal, gas and crude oil. India's position has support from the European Union, but is expected to be opposed by Saudi Arabia, whose economy is heavily reliant on fossil fuel export. On Tuesday, EU Vice President Frans Timmermans had said the bloc would support India's proposal "if it comes on top of what we already agreed in Glasgow".

Citing the Sixth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, Indian negotiators had said meeting the long-term goal of the Paris Agreement "requires phase down of all fossil fuels".

"Selective singling out of sources of emissions, for either labelling them more harmful, or labelling them 'green and sustainable' even when they are sources of greenhouse gases, has no basis in the best available science," they said.

The cover text of the draft does not mention when a loss and damage finance facility will be launched and its contours. Poor and developing countries have demanded a fund to address loss and damage — a term used for irreparable destruction caused by climate change-fuelled disasters, at this edition of the COP. The first draft includes many of the details that were agreed upon in COP26 in Glasgow, which includes keeping the global warming target below 1.5°C.

Climate hell

"The latest draft cover note from the COP27 Presidency pushes the pedal to the metal on the highway to climate hell," Yeb Saño, executive director of Greenpeace Southeast Asia, said in a statement

'Kashmir not safe': Pandits write to Prez

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

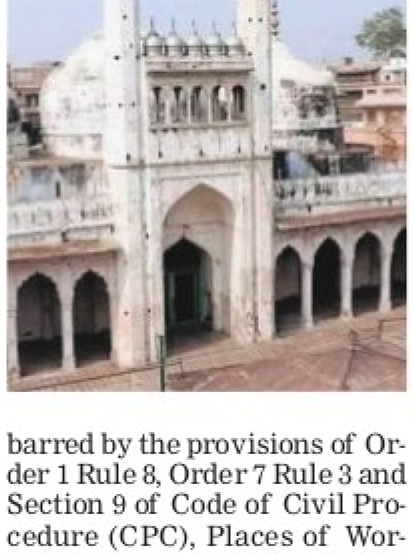
THE Kashmiri Pandit employees, who are on strike since May 12 after a Pandit employee was shot dead by militants inside Tehsil office in central Kashmir, have written to President Droupadi Murmu stating that Kashmir is not safe and sought her intervention in their transfer to Jammu till improvement of ground situation in the Valley.

In the letter to the President, the Pandit employees posted in the Valley have alleged that they were forced to sign bonds before joining government jobs in militancy-hit Kashmir that said, "no matter what the security conditions in the Valley will be, we will not leave our district in which we were appointed".

They alleged that this bond is being used to force them to return to Kashmir and serve there. The Pandit employees recruited under PM's job package since 2010 and posted in Valley went on a strike after the death of Rahul Bhat.

Court rejects Gyanvapi mosque panel appeal against worship of 'Shivling'

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow



THE Civil Judge (Senior Division) of the Fast-Track Court (FTC), Varanasi, on Thursday dismissed the application of Anjuman Intezamia Masjid, the management committee of Gyanvapi mosque, challenging the maintainability of the suit filed on behalf of Bhagwan Adi Vishweshwar Virajman by Vishwa Vedic Sanatan Sangh's (VVSS) secretary Kiran Singh.

The VVSS' plea has sought ban on the entry of Muslims in Gyanvapi premises, handing the premises over to Hindus and give them rights to worship the purported Shivling that was found in the wuzukhana (ablution pond) of the mosque during court-ordered survey in May this year.

The court of Civil Judge (Senior Division) Mahendra Kumar Pandey posted the matter for further proceedings on December 2. While passing the order, Civil Judge (Senior Division) FTC Mahendra Kumar Pandey stated: "In view of the discussions, this court has come to the conclusion that the suit of the plaintiffs is not barred by the provisions of Order 1 Rule 8, Order 7 Rule 3 and Section 9 of Code of Civil Procedure (CPC), Places of Worship (Special Provisions) Act, 1991 (Act no.42 of 1991), the Waqf Act 1995 (Act no. 43 of 1995), the UP Shri Kashi Vishwanath Temple Act, 1983 (Act no.29 of 1983), the Indian Limitation Act and by the judicial dictum of Suit No. 62 of 1936 Deen Moh. & others Vs secretary and, thereby, the application 35C filed by the defendant no.4 is liable to be dismissed."

The FTC order added: "The application 37C (to challenge maintainability) filed by the defendant no. 4 (AIM) under Order 7 Rule 11 civil procedure code (CPC) is hereby dismissed." Welcoming the order, plaintiff Kiran Singh's lawyer Anupam Dwivedi called it a big victory.

"Now, further trial will start and hearing on the demand for urgently permitting regular 'puja-archana' (worshipping) of Lord Aadi Visheshwar will take place in the court," said Dwivedi. Meanwhile, AIM's lawyer Rayis Ahmed refused to give any comment saying any statement on 20-page order would be made only after going through it.

'Main target is rising political graph of AAP'

Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia questioned the move claiming that the BJP-ruled Centre is once again targeting AAP leaders just ahead of the municipal polls. AAP chief spokesperson Saurabh Bhardwaj said that the summoning of Pathak is indication in itself that MCD polls are around cation in itself that MCD polls are aroundthe corner.

LIFE SENTENCES FOR THREE OVER 2014 DOWNING OF MALAYSIAN AIRLINES JET

SCHIPHOL

A Dutch court on Thursday convicted two Russians and a pro-Moscow Ukrainian separatist in absentia of the murders of 298 people who died in the 2014 downing of Malaysia Airlines Flight MH17 over Ukraine and sentenced them to life imprisonment. One Russian was acquitted because of a lack of evidence.

Against the geopolitical upheaval caused by Russia's full-blown invasion of Ukraine this year, the court also held that Moscow in 2014 had overall control of the separatist Donetsk People's Republic in eastern Ukraine, from where it said the attack on the plane was launched.

Presiding Judge Hendrik Steenhuis said evidence presented by prosecutors at a trial that lasted more than two years proved that the Boeing 777 flying from Amsterdam to Kuala Lumpur was brought down by a Buk missile fired by pro-Moscow Ukrainian fighters on July 17, 2014. The crash scattered wreckage and bodies over farmland and fields of sunflowers.

In the courtroom, some families of victims blinked away tears as Steenhuis highlighted how their lives were changed forever on that day.

Steenhuis described the torment of family members who had to wait for the remains of their relatives. "A piece of bone from a hand. A piece of leg or a foot. In two cases, no parts of a loved one returned."

The three men, who can appeal, did not attend their trial at a tightly guarded courtroom on the edge of Amsterdam's Schiphol Airport, from where the doomed plane left. Prosecutors had sought life sentences for all four. Prosecutors and the suspects have two weeks to file an appeal. There had been fears that the weight of evidence was impressive but would not necessarily lead to convictions. Steenhuis, however, cited extremely detailed evidence showing where the Buk was fired from, the burns it left on a field, and how it moved around eastern Ukraine. He also went into deep details on the roles of the suspects.

Relative of an MH17 crash victim speaks to press at the Schiphol Airport Judicial complex in Badhoevedorpy ahead of the verdict on Thursday | AFP

> I don't believe in terms of closure — ask relatives who lost their children, you will never find closure for that. But I really hope that this day will give families some space to try to get on with their lives
>
> Piet Ploeg, chairman of MH17 foundation

"There is plentiful evidence" to support theory that the missile was shot from the field in rebel-held territory, Steenhuis said. "There is no reasonable doubt possible," he added, dismissing defense arguments that something might have happened to the plane.

The court ruled that the three men – Russians Igor Girkin and Sergey Dubinskiy, and Ukrainian separatist Leonid Kharchenko — worked together to bring the Buk missile system from a Russian military base into Ukraine and bring it into position for its launch.

And even if the shooting down of MH17 might have amounted to a military miscalculation, Steenhuis said "such an error did not change the intent."

Relatives said the ruling showed who was responsible for all the deaths on the plane. "The truth on the table — that is the most important thing," said Anton Kotte, who lost his son, daughter-in-law and his 6-year-old grandson when MH17 was shot down. He said the hearing was a "D-Day" for relatives.

Robbert van Heijningen, who lost his brother, sister-in-law and nephew, called the downing "an act of barbarism" that he could never put behind him, regardless of the verdict.

"I call it a stone in my heart, and stones ... don't disappear," he said. AP

More attacks by Russians on Ukraine's energy infra

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN airstrikes targeted Ukraine's energy facilities again Thursday as the first snow of the season fell in Kyiv, a harbinger of the hardship to come if Moscow's missiles continue to take out power and gas plants as winter descends.

Separately, the United Nations announced the extension of a deal to ensure exports of grain and fertilizers from Ukraine that were disrupted by the war. The deal was set to expire soon, renewing fears of a global food crisis if exports were blocked from one of the world's largest grain producers.

Even as all sides agreed to extend the deal, air raid sirens sounded across Ukraine on Thursday. At least four people were killed and more than two dozen others wounded in the drone and missile strikes.

The Kremlin's forces have suffered a series of setbacks on the ground, the latest being the loss of the southern city of Kherson. In the face of those defeats, Russia has increasingly resorted to aerial onslaughts aimed at energy infrastructure and other civilian targets in parts of Ukraine it doesn't hold.

Thursday's salvo appeared to be on a lesser scale than the nationwide barrage of more than 100 missiles and drones that knocked out power to 10 million people.

Tax hikes and spending cuts in UK autumn budget

Millions of households must shell out more for energy from April

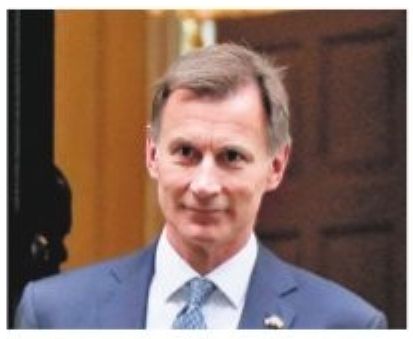
LONDON

MILLIONS of British people face higher taxes and steeper energy bills after the government announced an emergency budget on Thursday aimed at restoring the country's economic credibility and shoring up its battered public finances.

Treasury chief Jeremy Hunt promised to protect the most vulnerable, including pensioners and those on low incomes, and increase funding for core public services like health and education, even as he imposed 55 billion pounds in tax increases and spending cuts.

Hunt acknowledged he was delivering "a substantial tax increase," with measures that include higher taxes on top earners and levies on some businesses.

At the same time, Hunt pledged to spend billions of pounds to help consumers pay soaring energy bills, increase welfare benefits and pensions in line with inflation, and maintain investment in energy and infrastructure projects.



Jeremy Hunt

Just three weeks after taking office, Prime Minister Rishi Sunak's government faces the challenge of balancing the nation's budget while helping millions of people slammed by a cost-of-living crisis as Russia's war in Ukraine pushes up energy prices and slows economic growth.

The emergency budget statement aimed to restore the government's financial and political credibility after former Prime Minister Liz Truss announced 45 billion pounds in unfunded tax cuts that torpedoed investor confidence, sent the pound to record lows against the US dollar and sparked emergency central bank intervention.

Truss was forced to resign six weeks after taking office. Saying the UK faces "unprecedented global headwinds," Hunt unveiled the package that he said would help tame inflation and rein in public debt while bolstering the economy.

"It is a balanced plan for stability, a plan for growth and a plan for public services," he told the House of Commons.

Facing pressure to tap huge profits of oil and gas companies to help fund support for struggling Britons, the government raised its windfall tax from 25% to 35% from January 2024 to March 2028. Electricity generators also will have to pay a new temporary levy of 45%. Hunt said the taxes combined would raise 14 billion pounds next year.

Hunt promised to protect public spending on key areas such as health and education as well as investment in energy and infrastructure projects. But he delayed key decisions, such as whether to stick to the previous government's promise to increase defence spending to 3% of economic output.

SHARIF GOVT

Pak defence min confirms plan to amend Army Act

ISLAMABAD

THE Pakistan government is planning to amend the Army Act of 1952 to have greater authority over the appointment and retention of the Army chief, the defence minister has said, days ahead of the scheduled retirement of General Qamar Javed Bajwa.

Defence Minister Khawaja M Asif confirmed the government's plan but expressed his disapproval over the 'media hype' over it. He said the government is not considering any major changes to the Pakistan Army Act (PAA).

Asif said that the proposed amendments package was required as per the Supreme Court verdict of 2019, which had called for legislating on the tenures of the services chiefs.

Taking to Twitter, the minister wrote, "Media hype over amendments in Pakistan Army Act is uncalled for. The government is not considering any major changes in the said Act. SCP had demanded a review of relevant clauses of PAA in its judgement in CP 39/2019 which shall be complied with in due course."

According to the proposed amendment in Section 176 titled 'Power to make rules', subsection (2-a), in clause (a) of the PAA, the word 'retention' shall be inserted after 'reappointment' in the current text of the law, while the word 'resignation' would be inserted after the word 'release'.

The planned amendment of the Pakistan Army Act (PAA) 1952 is expected to empower the Prime Minister to retain an incumbent Army chief with a simple notification rather than through a complex constitutional process which also requires the President's assent.

Ukraine conflict, inflation, climate change to dominate APEC summit

BANGKOK

THE war in Ukraine, great power rivalries, inflation, climate change and fending off the pandemic are among the issues Pacific Rim leaders are tackling in their third back-to-back meeting in a week, this time at a heavily guarded venue in Thailand's capital, Bangkok.

"It is such a relief for us to be able to go back to the conduct of business in the way that we know is most efficient and most productive," Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos Jr, told a business conference held ahead of the APEC summit meetings. But he noted, "Dark clouds loom large if we are not to be prepared."

The war in Ukraine has pushed food and energy prices sharply higher, disrupting supply chains and hindering the world's recovery from the pandemic. It's also a challenge for APEC's consensus-oriented efforts. "The global economy faces mounting downward pressure and growing risks of recession," Chinese President Xi Jinping said in written remarks.

The APEC leaders meet formally in closed-door sessions on Friday and Saturday. For some, it will be at least the third such opportunity for face-to-face talks in the past two weeks.

Russian President Vladimir Putin has been avoiding international forums where he would be showered with criticism over the invasion of Ukraine and will not attend. With Biden absent, Xi is the star attendee in Bangkok.

Before the summit, Thai officials said they were hoping to steer APEC toward long-term solutions in various areas, including climate change, economic disruptions and faltering recoveries from the pandemic.

Apart from the conflict in Ukraine, "the world is staring at hyperinflation married to recession, a broken supply chain and scarcity and climate calamities."

Thai Foreign Minister Don Pramudwinai said at a meeting of foreign ministers and commerce ministers who were working on draft statements due to be issued after the summit. AP

Controlled herbs label for cannabis sparks uproar

Thailand's Deputy Prime Minister and Public Health Minister Anutin Charnvirakul said that the new announcement of categorising buds or flowers of cannabis plant as 'controlled herbs' is a temporary measure to curb the proliferation of recreational cannabis use while the deliberation of the bill on cannabis and hemp continues to drag on. He further said that the announcement made on last Friday by the Ministry of Public Health is one of the many small legal measures to control the recreational use of cannabis that increased rapidly after its decriminalisation in June. The issue of the growing recreational use of cannabis continues while Thailand waits for the cannabis and hemp bill — an all-in-one legal mechanism to ensure better control of cannabis use in the country, Anutin said

Former lecturer guilty of making racial remarks

A 61-year-old former lecturer of a Singapore polytechnic pleaded guilty on Thursday of making racial remarks against a half-Indian and half-Chinese interracial couple in 2001, a video of which went viral online, and of possessing obscene films on his mobile phone. Tan Boon Lee, a former Ngee Ann Polytechnic senior lecturer, admitted to the two charges, The Straits Times reported. On June 5, 2021, Lee, a Singaporean, directed racist remarks at 26-year-old Dave Parkash, a half-Indian and half-Filipino Singaporean, who was accompanied by his girlfriend, Jacqueline Ho, a half-Thai and half-Singaporean Chinese. Lee crossed paths with the couple and commented that it was 'such a disgrace, an Indian man with a Chinese girl.' Ho recorded the confrontation that followed, and the video went viral on social media.

NARROW VICTORY

GOP wins control of US House

WASHINGTON

REPUBLICAN Representative Mike Garcia, a former Navy fighter pilot, scored a US House win in a strongly Democratic district, handing the GOP control of the chamber and giving the party a rare reason to celebrate in a state dominated by Democrats.

The conservative Republican was reelected to a third term in a district that has a 12.5-point Democratic registration edge and was carried by then-presidential candidate Joe Biden by double digits in 2020. It was Garcia's third consecutive victory over Democrat Christy Smith, a former legislator.

With nearly 75% of the ballots counted, Garcia had 54.2%, to 45.8% for Smith.

Even though his victory carried historic weight by putting Republicans in charge of the House "the mission remains the same," Garcia said in a statement, in which he promised to work to "get our country back on track."

It takes 218 seats to control the House. With the addition of the latest California results, Republicans have locked down 218 seats so far with Democrats claiming 211.

Pelosi to step down as top Democrat

Democrat Nancy Pelosi, the trailblazing first female speaker of the US House of Representatives, said Thursday that she will step down as party leader when Republicans take control of the chamber in January.

"I will not seek reelection to Democratic leadership in the next Congress," the 82-year-old Pelosi said in an emotional speech on the House floor.

4 foreigners among 700 freed by Myanmar junta

BANGKOK

A former British envoy, an Australian economic adviser and a Japanese journalist arrived in Thailand late on Thursday after being freed by Myanmar's junta in an amnesty involving almost 6,000 prisoners.

A total of 5,774 prisoners were due to be released to mark Myanmar's national day, "including some 600 women", the junta said in a statement on Thursday. Three former ministers in the government of ousted leader Aung San Suu Kyi were among those to be freed, it added. Bowman, who served as ambassador from 2002 to 2006, was detained with her husband in August for failing to declare she was living at an address different from the one listed on her foreigner's registration certificate.

Australian Turnell was working as an adviser to Myanmar's civilian leader Suu Kyi when he was detained shortly after the coup in February 2021. He and Suu Kyi were convicted in September by a closed junta court of breaching the official secrets act and jailed for three years each. Japanese journalist Kubota, 26, was detained in July near an anti-government rally in Yangon and jailed for 10 years. He was the fifth foreign journalist to be detained in Myanmar since the coup.

Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese said that he had spoken with Turnell after his release and the economist was in "amazingly good spirits".

US Secretary of State Antony Blinken welcomed Myanmar's release of thousands of prisoners, but said there was no sign the junta was opening up. "It is one bright spot in what is otherwise an incredibly dark time, where we see things going from bad to worse in Burma," Blinken said.

"It is one bright spot in what is otherwise an incredibly dark time," Blinken told reporters at an Asia-Pacific summit in Bangkok.

Amnesty International's regional office spokesperson said: "Thousands of people jailed since the coup in Myanmar have done nothing wrong and should never have been imprisoned in the first place."

More than 2,300 civilians have been killed since the military's crackdown on dissent after it ousted Suu Kyi's government, according to a Myanmar monitoring group. AFP

Early investors reduce stake in Paytm, Nykaa

While SoftBank sells 4.5% stake in Paytm, Nykaa continues to see bulk sellings

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

EVEN as the two new-age companies -- Paytm and Nykaa -- reported decent growth in revenue for the September quarter, some of their early investors are liquidating their holding post the expiry of mandatory one-year lock-in period.

While Paytm's second-largest shareholder, SoftBank, sold 4.5% of its stake in the fintech major on Thursday, Nykaa continues to see a flurry of high profile bulk sellings.

According to exchange data, Mala Gopal Gaonkar sold ₹1,009 crore worth of FSN E-Commerce Ventures (Nykaa) shares in a bulk deal on the BSE on Thursday.

Gaonkar sold 5.75 crore shares at an average of ₹175.48 per share while Canada Pension Plan Investment Board bought 1.7 crore Nykaa shares at ₹175.25 apiece, BSE data showed. This came a day after Lighthouse India Fund III had sold three crore Nykaa shares worth ₹525.39 crore in a bulk deal. These shares were sold at an average price of ₹175.13 apiece.

The one year lock-in period for Nykaa pre-IPO shareholders expired on November 10 and soon after the scrip turned ex-bonus. Since then, Nykaa shares are seeing huge volume trades. According to market sources, Citigroup has now launched a block deal to sell Nykaa shares worth about ₹1,000 crore. Coming to Paytm, where the lock-in period for pre-IPO investors expired on November 15, Japan's SoftBank is said to have sold about 29.5 million shares in the fintech firm via block deals early Thursday.

This stake sale, which is equivalent to 4.5% equity in Paytm, reportedly fetched the Japanese investment firm $215 million.The exit by SoftBank came even as the loss-making Paytm reported 76% growth in revenue for the September quarter and assured of becoming profitable by September 2023. The high profile stake sales are having a catastrophic impact on the share prices of two firms. Shares of One 97 Communications (Paytm) closed 10% lower on Thursday at Rs 640 apiece. The fall came even as the stock was down about 70% from its IPO price of 2,150 rupees.

SC snubs Future Group in Amazon case

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday made it clear that it will not allow stalling of the arbitral proceedings pending before the Singapore International Arbitration Centre (SIAC) pertaining to the ongoing legal tussle between e-commerce major Amazon and the Future Group.

The top court said the sanctity of such proceedings needed to be maintained.

"You (Future group and others) can't keep stultifying the proceeding before the arbitral tribunal and this is just a ploy to delay the proceeding. These are all ploys by well-heeled parties to delay the arbitration proceeding. Your client is trying to be too clever by half," a bench comprising Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justices Hima Kohli and J B Pardiwala said. Justice Chandrachud said he was concerned as the CJI due to the claim made that there was no rule of law prevailing in the country. "You can in any case challenge the final award to be passed in the arbitral proceedings, the bench said, making clear we will make sure that the arbitral proceedings go on."

Amazon sought hearing against Delhi HC order

The Supreme Court was hearing the submissions of senior advocate Gopal Subramanium, appearing for Amazon, seeking urgent hearing of the plea filed against the Delhi High Court order of November 3

The apex court was hearing the submissions of senior advocate Gopal Subramanium, appearing for Amazon, seeking urgent hearing of the plea filed against the Delhi high court order of November 3. The HC had recently reserved its verdict on a batch of pleas on the ongoing legal tussle between Amazon and the Future Group over Future Retail's (FRL) ₹24,731 crore merger deal with Reliance Retail. The court had then extended by 10 days the time, which was originally granted by the Arbitral Tribunal to Future Coupons Private Ltd (FCPL) for filing its response to the amended arbitration petition of Amazon. The petitioner (FCPL) would, therefore, file a response to the amended Stipulated Order of Continuance (SOC), on maintainability as well as on merits on or before November 17, 2022, without prejudice to the rights and contentions of both parties and subject to outcome of these proceedings, the high court said.

64% ONLINE SALES THIS FESTIVE SEASON FROM TIER 2+ CITIES: REPORT

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THIS year, festive sales have been driven by Tier-II cities and beyond, as 64% of shoppers come from these cities, with fashion dominating the category.

Led by unbranded fashion- one in every five orders had a kurti or saree in their cart, and within beauty, makeup was the most sought-after category.

Redseer Strategy Consultants on Thursday released a report that showed a 25% year-on-year (YoY) growth in online retail during the festive month this year, and ₹76,000 crore worth of goods were sold.

A majority of the platforms held their festive sale from September 22 to October 23, 2022.

"Democratisation of categories continued this year as well, with lower order value items growing faster than mobiles and electronics. While mobiles and electronics continue to dominate category share, home & kitchen, groceries and beauty personal care were the fastest-growing categories," said Sanjay Kothari, Associate Partner, Redseer Strategy Consultants.

While groceries grew nearly 2X from last festive, long tail categories such as Home, groceries saw the highest YoY growth at 1.86X.

NIIF loan book rises to ₹26,000 cr from ₹4,200 cr in past 3 years: FinMin

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

LOAN book of the National Investment and Infrastructure Fund (NIIF) has increased from ₹4,200 crore to ₹26,000 crore in three years, a finance ministry statement said on Thursday.

NIIF is a government-backed alternative fund platform that brings together Indian and international funds to invest in infrastructure projects in India.

"NIIF has developed into an internationally credible and commercially viable investment platform, backed by several highly respected global and domestic investors who have invested alongside the Government of India in NIIF Funds," said the ministry.

During the fifth meeting of the Governing Council of NIIF, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman asked the team to build on the work done so far and leverage India's attractive investment fundamentals to expand its operations.

Sitharaman urged the team to continue discussions with investors from countries that are keen to invest in the country.

The finance minister also exhorted the NIIF team to explore opportunities under the National Infrastructure Pipeline, PM GatiShakti and National Infrastructure Corridor, which include a big pool of investible greenfield and brownfield investment projects, and to try and crowd in commercial capital into those opportunities.

According to the statement, NIIF's first bilateral fund - an "India Japan Fund" with contribution from the Centre has been proposed through a pact between NIIF and Japan Bank for International Development (JBIC). The MoU was signed recently on November 9, 2022.

This key update regarding bilateral engagements of NIIF was endorsed by the Governing Council of NIIF.

Bharti Telecom to raise $858 mn through short tenor bonds

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SUNIL MITTAL-led-Bharti Telecom is planning to raise as much as $858.32 million through shorter-tenor bonds, according to a report.

Bharti Telecom, which holds a stake in Bharti Airtel, will raise funds in three tranches and has invited bids from investors on Friday. The company aims to raise ₹1,500 crore through two-year bonds at a coupon of 8.70% and ₹2,500 via three-year bonds at 8.80% coupon. It aims to raise ₹30 billion via three-year bonds at a six-month marginal cost of lending rate, which currently stands at 8.40%, through Kotak Mahindra Bank .

It is expected that the company will use the proceeds to refinance or service its debt and to pay all fees, costs and expenses related to the issue. Kotak Mahindra Bank is the sole arranger for the bond issue, allotment for which will happen on Nov. 21. Bharti Telecom commercial papers, worth nearly ₹116 billion, are due to mature over the next few weeks, according to an ICRA rating document. Meanwhile, Bharti Airtel announced the launch of a 5G network at Pune Lohegaon Airport. With this launch, Airtel has covered 11 cities with its 5G networks. The company said this 5G service will be available for customers who are flying in and out of the airport. The other cities, Airtel's 5G services are available include Pune, Delhi, Mumbai, Chennai, Hyderabad, Bengaluru, Panipat, Gurugram, Siliguri, Bengaluru, and Nagpur.

India's PC market declines 11.7% in Q3, 2022, after growing for past two years

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AS remote working is taking a backseat in the country, traditional PC (personal computer) market, after two years of consecutive growth, reported decline by 11.7% year-over-year (YoY) in Q32022 (Jul-Sept).

As per the International Data Corporation (IDC)'s Worldwide Quarterly Personal Computing Device Tracker report, all segments declined except the government, which grew 91.5% YoY as orders materialised, leading to strong growth for the third consecutive quarter.

"India's PC market, inclusive of desktops, notebooks, and workstations fell 11.7% YoY in Q32022 after eight consecutive quarters of growth despite strong shipments of 3.9 million units," reads the report. As per the report, desktop and workstation categories grew 23.4% and 17.6% YoY, respectively, the notebook category fell 19.5%. The consumer segment shipped 2.1 million units. Online sales helped picking up momentum at the end of September. However, that was not sufficient to prevent a 10.9% YoY fall. While the demand for premium notebooks (over $1,000) fell 28.5% YoY in commercial segment, premium consumer notebooks grew 9.8% YoY. Strong performance by Apple and good traction for ASUS' gaming notebooks were the key drivers.

"With schools and colleges opening, the consumer segment is seeing tapering demand for past few months as demand for remote learning has come to a standstill. Weakened currency is resulting in rising device costs and pricing pressure for vendors," said Bharath Shenoy, market analyst, IDC India. In terms of companies, HP Inc. grabbed the top spot in the market with 23.9% share in 3Q22. It shipped over 940,000 units. Lenovo overtook Dell for second position with a share of 21.9%, thanks to online sales. Dell Technologies, with 16% market share, slipped to the third position. Acer held fourth position with a 10.9% market share. ASUS maintained fifth position with a share of 9.9%.

Jio tops 4G network speed chart in Oct: TRAI

NEW DELHI: Telecom major Jio topped the 4G network speed chart in terms of both average download and upload, according to data published by sector regulator Trai. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai) has dropped BSNL from the 4G speed chart in October as it is yet to roll out 4G services. In October, the telecom major maintained its leadership in download segment by recording an average speed of 20.3 megabits per second (mbps). Airtel recorded a download speed of 15 mbps and Vodafone Idea (Vi) with 14.5 mbps speed. PTI

Sandhya Devanathan Meta's new India head

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FACEBOOK parent Meta on Thursday announced the appointment of Sandhya Devanathan as the vice-president of Meta India.

It said Devanathan will focus on bringing the organisation's business and revenue priorities together to serve its partners and clients.

She will take on her new role on January 1, 2023, and will report to Dan Neary, Vice President, Meta APAC and will be a part of the APAC leadership team. She will move back to India to lead the India org and strategy, Meta said in a statement.

Recently, Meta India head Ajit Mohan quit the company to join rival Snap.

Devanathan will spearhead the company's India charter and strengthen the strategic relationships with the country's leading brands, creators, advertisers, and partners to drive Meta's revenue growth in key channels in India.

Devanathan, who has 22 years of experience, joined Meta in 2016, and helped build out the Singapore and Vietnam businesses and teams as well as the company's e-commerce initiatives in Southeast Asia.

On the appointment, Marne Levine, Chief Business Officer, Meta said, "India is at the forefront of digital adoption and Meta has launched many of our top products, such as Reels and Business Messaging, in India first."

'Tailor-made solutions will drive fintech space'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

AS the country moves towards a $5 trillion economy, there will be a lot more tailor-made solutions for customers in the fintech space, say fintech founders.

Talking about the world of fintech and digital payments at the Bengaluru Tech Summit (BTS), Nithin Kamath of Zerodha, Nitin Gupta of Uni cards and Harshil Mathur of Razorpay said the future of fintech looks very promising and lot more products can be developed for businesses.

In the last 10 years, fintech has played an important role in driving the digital ecosystem. The next step of fintech is to deliver customised and tailor-made solutions, said Harshil Mathur, co-founder and CEO, Razorpay.

In case of payments, the next thing is about coming out with payment solutions for tier-1 or tier 2 users.

According to Mathur, the next step will be providing solutions that users or consumers need.

Nithin Kamath, founder & CEO of Zerodha, said he lived the life of a customer for 10-12 years before starting his own company.

"The plan was to be a better broker. Things evolved and we were in the right place at the right time," Kamath said.

Kamath added that the younger generation trusts faster but not that loyal. "We know the older population (40+) will not move away," Kamath said, stressing on the need to improve one's offerings and products to build trust among users.

Talking about regulations in the fintech space, they said regulators have done a good job and they try to protect consumers.

Mathur also spoke about the scope of payments business in the business space.

"Businesses are really waiting for the change. They are actively looking for digitalisation and in the next 5-10 years all aspects of the business ecosystem will be digitised," Mathur said.

PAYMENT SOLUTIONS

Next step of fintech is to deliver customised and tailor-made solutions, said Harshil Mathur, co-founder and CEO, Razorpay. In case of payments, next thing is about coming up with payment solutions for tier-1/ tier 2 users. He says the next step will be providing solutions that users need

Green finance increases in recent years, but domestic issuances remain low

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

GREEN bonds, green and sustainability-linked loans are steadily increasing in the country in recent years, with sustainable debt issuance stood at $13.7 billion (₹1,118.46 billion) in 2021 calendar year (CY).

Sustainable debt, including loans and bonds worth $4.3 billion (₹351 billion), have been raised in CY 2022 till October 7, as per the Institute for Energy Economics and Financial Analysis (IEEFA). So far, $28.3 billion worth of green loans and $19.38 billion worth green bonds have been issued in the Indian market till October 7, primarily by power utilities and independent power producers. Sustainability-linked bonds are fast growing and are issued primarily by the industrial sector firms like JSW Steel, UPL, Ultratech Cement, among others. $2.45 billion sustainability-linked loans have been issued till October 7, as per Bloomberg Green Energy Finance. While the renewable energy sector and electric mobility is leading the lending under sustainable debt instruments, other sectors like banks, non-banking finance companies (NBFCs), chemicals, metals, pharma are also tapping into the green funds.

Indian corporations are expected to adopt more sustainable practices, mainly due to regulatory pressure and to tap into the low-cost green-labelled money. Some industry representatives believe corporations will be forced to take up sustainability practices in future to tap the sustainable finance market, as it is slated to grow bigger. Kamal Bali, managing director and President of Volvo India, said companies must adopt environment, sustainability and governance (ESG) practices in order get green-labelled finance and warned that carbon borders will become a norm for exports to developed economies.

For all the excitement of a WC, one cannot ignore the scandals & sufferings Qatar has generated

BRAZIL are well-placed to win a record sixth World Cup, Led by Cristiano Ronaldo, Portugal lead the European charge. An ageing Lionel Messi can finally silence his remaining critics with global gold. African champions, Senegal, have the squad and the personality to become the first from the continent to reach the semifinals.

There will be goals, cards, penalties, enduring images, heartbreaks and tears. Yet, it feels vulgar to talk about the World Cup from a footballing context knowing what has happened in the last 12 years.

Since that still surreal Thursday on December 2, 2010, almost everything about the Qatar bid and the subsequent win has been questioned. Allegations of bribery and corruption continue to linger, like impure Delhi air. Workers have not only been exploited but people who went to Qatar to build a better life for their families back home returned to their families in coffins. That both of these are facts and not allegations itself is a terrible look for the organisers.

At some level, this World Cup could have been genuine cause for celebration. A first Muslim World Cup. A first Arab World Cup. And the revamp of the infamous kafala system.

Yet, it's a World Cup that will probably be remembered for all the wrong reasons.

It was supposed to be a Summer World Cup. It will be played in the Winter. Out of the 22 FIFA Ex-Co members who voted to give the World Cup to Qatar, at least 16 have faced some corruption-related charge or other. Some have gone to jail. Some have been banned for life. One of them became a whistleblower.. the rap charges reads like the mafia took over the game for a while.

This is even before you come to the human cost, one of the greatest tragedies of the 21st century. Never before have so many poor people suffered because of the wanton acts of so few rich people in a sporting context. Human rights groups still do not know the exact number of people who died while constructing the stadia and other World Cup related projects. The figures have ranged from 6500 to 15000 (this figure, published by Amnesty International, is the number of foreign nationals who died in Qatar between 2010 to 2019 so this includes people like doctors and engineers). For what its worth, FIFA maintains that only three people died as a result of their work on the site.

A Human Rights Watch (HRW) report, published on Monday, made for grim reading.

"FIFA granted Qatar the games in 2010, with no human rights due diligence and no set conditions about protections for migrant workers who would be needed to construct the massive infrastructure," the body said. "FIFA is responsible not just for stadium workers, a minority of the total migrant workforce whose employers are held to higher standards for workplace conditions, but also for workers to build and service projects for tournament preparation and delivery, including transport and accommodations, security, cleaning and landscaping.

"Despite repeated warnings from the workers themselves and civil society groups, FIFA failed to impose strong conditions to protect workers and became a complacent enabler to the widespread abuse workers suffered, including illegal recruitment fees, wage theft, injuries and deaths.

"FIFA has the responsibility to identify and remedy these abuses in accordance with the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, which FIFA adopted into its Statutes in 2016 and its Human Rights Policy, adopted in 2017. FIFA also has ample resources for remedy since the 2022 World Cup is expected to generate over $6 billion in revenue. Key labour reforms introduced by Qatari authorities came too late or were too weakly implemented for many workers to benefit."

Amnesty International's final pre-tournament briefing was on similar lines. The world body maintained that human rights abuses 'persist on a significant scale'. "Despite the positive evolution of Qatar's labour system, substantial work remains to effectively implement and enforce these (changes)," the report said. "Ultimately, human rights abuses persist on a significant scale today."

It's a damning indictment that teams, a few days out from their first games, are asked questions on how they will tackle questions specifically related to Qatar. Will they protest? Will they challenge the country's lack of rights for marginalised communities? Will they ask FIFA to create a $440mn (prize money for the World Cup) fund towards reparations?

That last question has already been answered resoundingly as several federations in Europe demand FIFA take necessary steps to compensate migrant workers who made this World Cup a reality. FIFA, of course, does not want to talk about any of this. Two weeks ago, they wrote to all the participating nations with the message 'now focus on football'.

It's hard to focus on football when it's alleged to have been sold to the highest bidder.

STATUS QUO

SC says no to IOA's early hearing plea

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court said on Thursday the election of the office bearers of the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) must go ahead as scheduled and it will hear on December 7 the issues relating to the sports body, including the amendments sought to be made to the draft constitution.

A bench comprising Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justices Hima Kohli and J B Pardiwala rejected the plea for urgent listing of the case which was sought on the ground that three 'minor amendments' to the draft constitution have to be decided prior to the polls.

"Election for the office bearers (of the IOA) is set to begin from December 10. Three minor amendments have taken place in the constitution prepared by former Supreme Court judge Justice L Nageswara Rao. The hearing is needed to hear the issue related to amendments in the constitution," a lawyer said.

The plea was opposed by Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre and senior advocate Rahul Mehra.

"We will hear it on December 7. The election must go on as per the schedule," the bench said.

The top court has approved holding of IOA elections on December 10. Earlier, it had on Tuesday directed that its orders of October 10 and November 3 on adoption of a new constitution and polling for electing an executive committee of the IOA shall be scrupulously followed.

The law officer had said the IOA constitution, as drafted by the former judge of the top court, has been adopted at the annual general meeting (AGM) of the sports body and any amendments to it can be made only with the express permission of the court.

Australia cruise to six-wicket win over England

A superb Dawid Malan century was in vain as Australia cruised to a six-wicket win over England in their first ODI at the Adelaide Oval on Thursday. Malan hit a stylish 134 as England made 287/9, but it never looked enough on a flat batting track that offered nothing for the bowlers. Brief scores: England 287/9 in 50 ovs (Malan 134; Cummins 3/62) lost to Australia 291/4 in 46.5 ovs (Warner 86, Smith 80 n.o, Head 69; Willey 2/51).

Praggnanandhaa secures first victory

SAN FRANCISCO: Indian Grandmaster R Praggnanandhaa posted his first victory while compatriot Arjun Erigaisi suffered a third straight defeat in the Meltwater Champions Tour Finals here on Thursday. Praggnanandha brushed aside Vietnam's Liem Quang Le 3-0 in the third round even as Erigaisi went down 0.5-2.5 to American Wesley So. Meanwhile, World No 1 Magnus Carlsen of Norway continued his winning run, crushing Azerbaijan's Shakhriyar Mamedyarov 3-0.

Junior women's pistol team clinches gold

NEW DELHI: India's junior women's pistol team, comprising Olympian Manu Bhaker, Esha Singh and Shikha Narwal, won a gold medal in the 15th Asian Airgun Championship in Daegu, Korea, on Thursday. It took India's gold count to 23. The trio beat the host country's Kim Minseo, Kim Juhee and Yang Jiin 16-12. India settled for a silver in the women's 10m air pistol team event after Rhythm Sangwan, Palak and Yuvika Tomar went down to Korea's Kim Jangmi, Kim Bomi and Yoo Hyunyoung by a similar 12-16 margin.

Youth Worlds: Boxer Lashu enters quarters

NEW DELHI: Indian boxer Lashu Yadav made her way into the women's 70kg quarterfinals after thrashing Poland's Marta Czerwinska by unanimous verdict (5-0) on Day 2 of the IBA Youth Men's and Women's World Boxing Championships in La Nucia, Spain. Preeti Dahiya and the country's two male pugilists also advanced. Preeti (57kg) blanked Colombia's Claudia Daniela 4-0.

PROTECTION FROM SOCIAL MEDIA ABUSE

FIFA and the global soccer players union have launched a moderation service aimed at protecting World Cup players from abuse on social media during the tournament. FIFA said Wednesday that the more than 830 players in Qatar can access a "dedicated monitoring, reporting and moderation service" that aims to filter hate speech targeted at them. The World Cup starts Sunday, just days after Twitter fired a swath of contractors working on content moderation teams that were tracking hate and trying to enforce rules against harmful posts. AP

Indian drums, Argentina fans greet Messi's arrival

AFP @Doha

INDIAN drums drowned out Argentina's diehard fans as hundreds waited hours to get a glimpse of a bus carrying Lionel Messi outside his World Cup team base in Qatar.

The drummers and Indian beat dancers again showed how Qatar 2022 is going to be a different experience for players and visiting fans. Supporters from the subcontinent had outnumbered England fans when they greeted Harry Kane's side on Tuesday. A crowd of more than 500 that had waited until nearly 4:00 am (0100GMT) to see the arrival of their heroes was split evenly between Argentina's Indian fans and those from the South American country.

The South Americans will begin their campaign on Tuesday against Saudi Arabia in Group C, which also includes Mexico and Poland. Members of the Argentina Fans In Qatar club, who claim more than 5,000 members, brought drums decorated with "Leo" Messi's portrait to the team base at Qatar University.

"If this is going to be Leo's last World Cup there can be no better place for it," said Munish Sharma who recalled seeing Messi score the winning goal when Argentina beat Brazil 1-0 in a friendly match in Doha in 2010. Indian fans have already made their mark with thousands taking part in a march and wearing the jerseys from top football nations, including Argentina, Brazil and England. "They do make a lot of noise," said Laura Valero who arrived from Buenos Aires on Tuesday.

"If those drums are going to play here every night then the team will never get to sleep," she said.

Valero, 24, said she had also borrowed nearly $8,000 from her parents to make the World Cup trip to Qatar and that was also a concern. "All my friends are here so I could not say no," she declared. Messi landed with the Argentina squad in the early hours of the morning in front of 36,000 spectators.

BFC suffer 4th straight defeat

AGENCIES @ Mumbai

TWO goals each in two halves helped Mumbai City FC ease past Bengaluru FC in the Indian Super League (ISL) at the Mumbai Football Arena in Mumbai, today. Jorge Diaz and Lalengmawia Ralte scored in the first half, while Bipin Singh and Lallianzuala Chhangte sealed a comfortable 4-0 win for the Islanders in the second half. Mumbai are second in the standings while Bengaluru remain in 10th spot. Mumbai City head coach Des Buckingham made one change to his starting eleven as Mandar Dessai was replaced at left-back by Vignesh D. BFC head coach Simon Grayson switched from a 4-4-2 to a 4-2-3-1 as Alan Costa replaced Aleksandar Jovanovic in defence. Skipper Sunil Chhetri dropped to the bench as Danish Farooq started.

TN beat Goa; Easy wins for Andhra and Kerala

AGENCIES @ Bengaluru

TAMIL Nadu beat Goa by 57 runs in a Group C match of the Vijay Hazare Trophy here. Batting first, Tamil Nadu amassed 373/4 thanks to a blistering 168 by opener N Jagadeesan and a ton by B Sai Sudharsan (117). They restricted the opposition to 316 for 6 in 50 overs. Jagadeesan, who brought up his third straight century, looked on course for a double ton before falling to Suyash S Prabhudessai (2/87).

In other matches, Kerala beat Chhattisgarh by eight wickets and Andhra crushed Bihar by 132 runs. A depleted Delhi team, meanwhile, lost to Karnataka by four wickets.

Select scores: Tamil Nadu 373/4 in 50 ovs (Jagadeesan 168, Sudharsan 117; Arjun 2/61) bt Goa 316/6 in 50 ovs (Kauthankar 67, Siddhesh 62 n.o); Chhattisgarh 171 in 48.1 ovs (Scaria 4/25, Basil 3/40) lost to Kerala 175/2 in 36.1 ovs (Rahul 92 n.o); Andhra 302/7 in 50 ovs (Hebbar 154, Vihari 52, Bhui 52) bt Bihar 170 in 44.3 ovs (Pratap 60; Reddy 3/21, Ayyappa 2/19); Hyderabad 256/9 in 50 ovs (Jaiswal 73, Buddhi 51; Mavi 3/52) lost to Uttar Pradesh 262/3 in 48.4 overs (Juyal 100, Rinku 78, Kaushik 70; Rayudu 3/29); Delhi 159 in 45.4 ovs (Lalit 59; Koushik 3/23, S Gopal 3/25) lost to Karnataka 161/6 in 29.4 ovs (Samarth 59, Pandey 48; Mayank 4/47); Baroda 284/7 in 50 ovs (Solanki 69, Pratyush 69; R Mohanty 2/32) bt Odisha 136 in 35.3 ovs (Dhuper 49, Meriwala 4/35).

NEW CHAPTER

Time for India to take fresh guard in T20Is

GOMESH S @ Chennai

EVERY time a World Cup comes to an end, it gives teams time to reflect and learn from the campaign and build a core group for the next cycle. Minutes after winning the title in 2011, former Indian captain MS Dhoni famously said, "We can close the chapter right now for this World Cup because we need to build up a team again." In 2021, India tried to do that with change in the leadership group. And as they take on New Zealand a week after their exit from the 2022 T20 World Cup, this could be the beginning of their rebuilding process, at least in the shortest format.

For starters, they have a new captain in Hardik Pandya. Albeit stand-in, this will be his first assignment as skipper against a top team. In the last six months, Pandya has grown into a leadership figure in Indian cricket. He led debutants Gujarat Titans to title in the Indian Premier League, captained India against Ireland and now, is in-charge of a young team that could begin its transition. And in the absence of the senior pros at the top-order, it could be a testing ground for him and the youngsters.

While India have used several captains across formats in 2022, the time might be right for India to look for a different skipper for T20Is. That Rohit Sharma being 35 and would be captaining in ODIs as well as Tests with the World Cup and World Test Championship in focus only adds to it. Former India coach also Ravi Shastri feels so. "There's no harm in having a new captain because the volume of cricket is such that for one player to play all three formats of the game is never going to be easy," said Shastri in an interaction facilitated by Prime Video on Thursday. "If Rohit is already leading in one-days and Test matches, there's no harm in identifying a new T20 captain. And if his name is Hardik Pandya, so be it," he added.

Hardik Pandya | AFP

While Pandya said that the next T20 World Cup is too far to think about, he knows that it all begins now. He said as much. "The roadmap starts now, but it is too far ahead right now. We have time, we will start having conversations on those grounds, right now, it is about making sure that we let the boys enjoy themselves while playing here," Pandya said on Wednesday.

Whether the change in guard will happen or not is something one has to wait and see. But irrespective of the captain, there is no doubt regarding the need for change in India's approach in the shortest format. And they have the arsenal to do that as well — Sanju Samson, Ishan Kishan, Umran Malik to name a few. India's head coach for the series VVS Laxman said that it is important to be aggressive in T20s. "The message from the captain and myself: be aggressive, but also focus on conditions and situations, and use that experience," Laxman said.

The New Zealand tour will be India's last T20I assignment in 2022. Things could be a lot different for India come 2023. But for now, it is important to see how Pandya and Co go about their business in the three-match T20I series.

Because as Pandya said, the roadmap starts now.
